

The image shows a handwriting practice sheet for the cursive letter 'a'. The sheet is divided into three horizontal sections by colored lines: a red line at the top, a light blue middle section, and a green line at the bottom. The cursive letter 'a' is written in black ink in the middle section. The letter starts with a vertical stroke that curves into a loop, then continues down and curves to the right. The top of the letter touches the red line, and the bottom of the letter touches the green line. The background of the middle section is light blue, while the top and bottom sections are white.

a

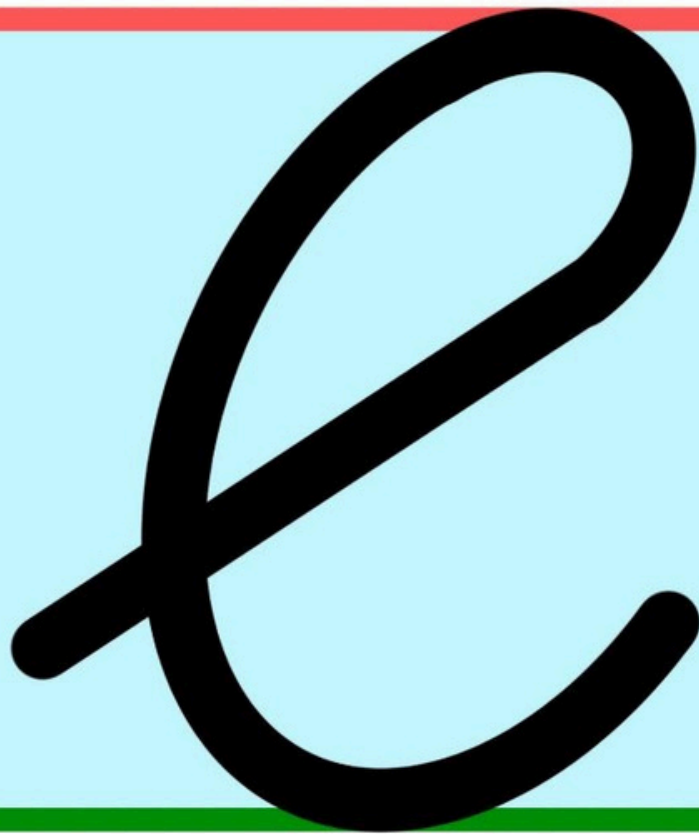

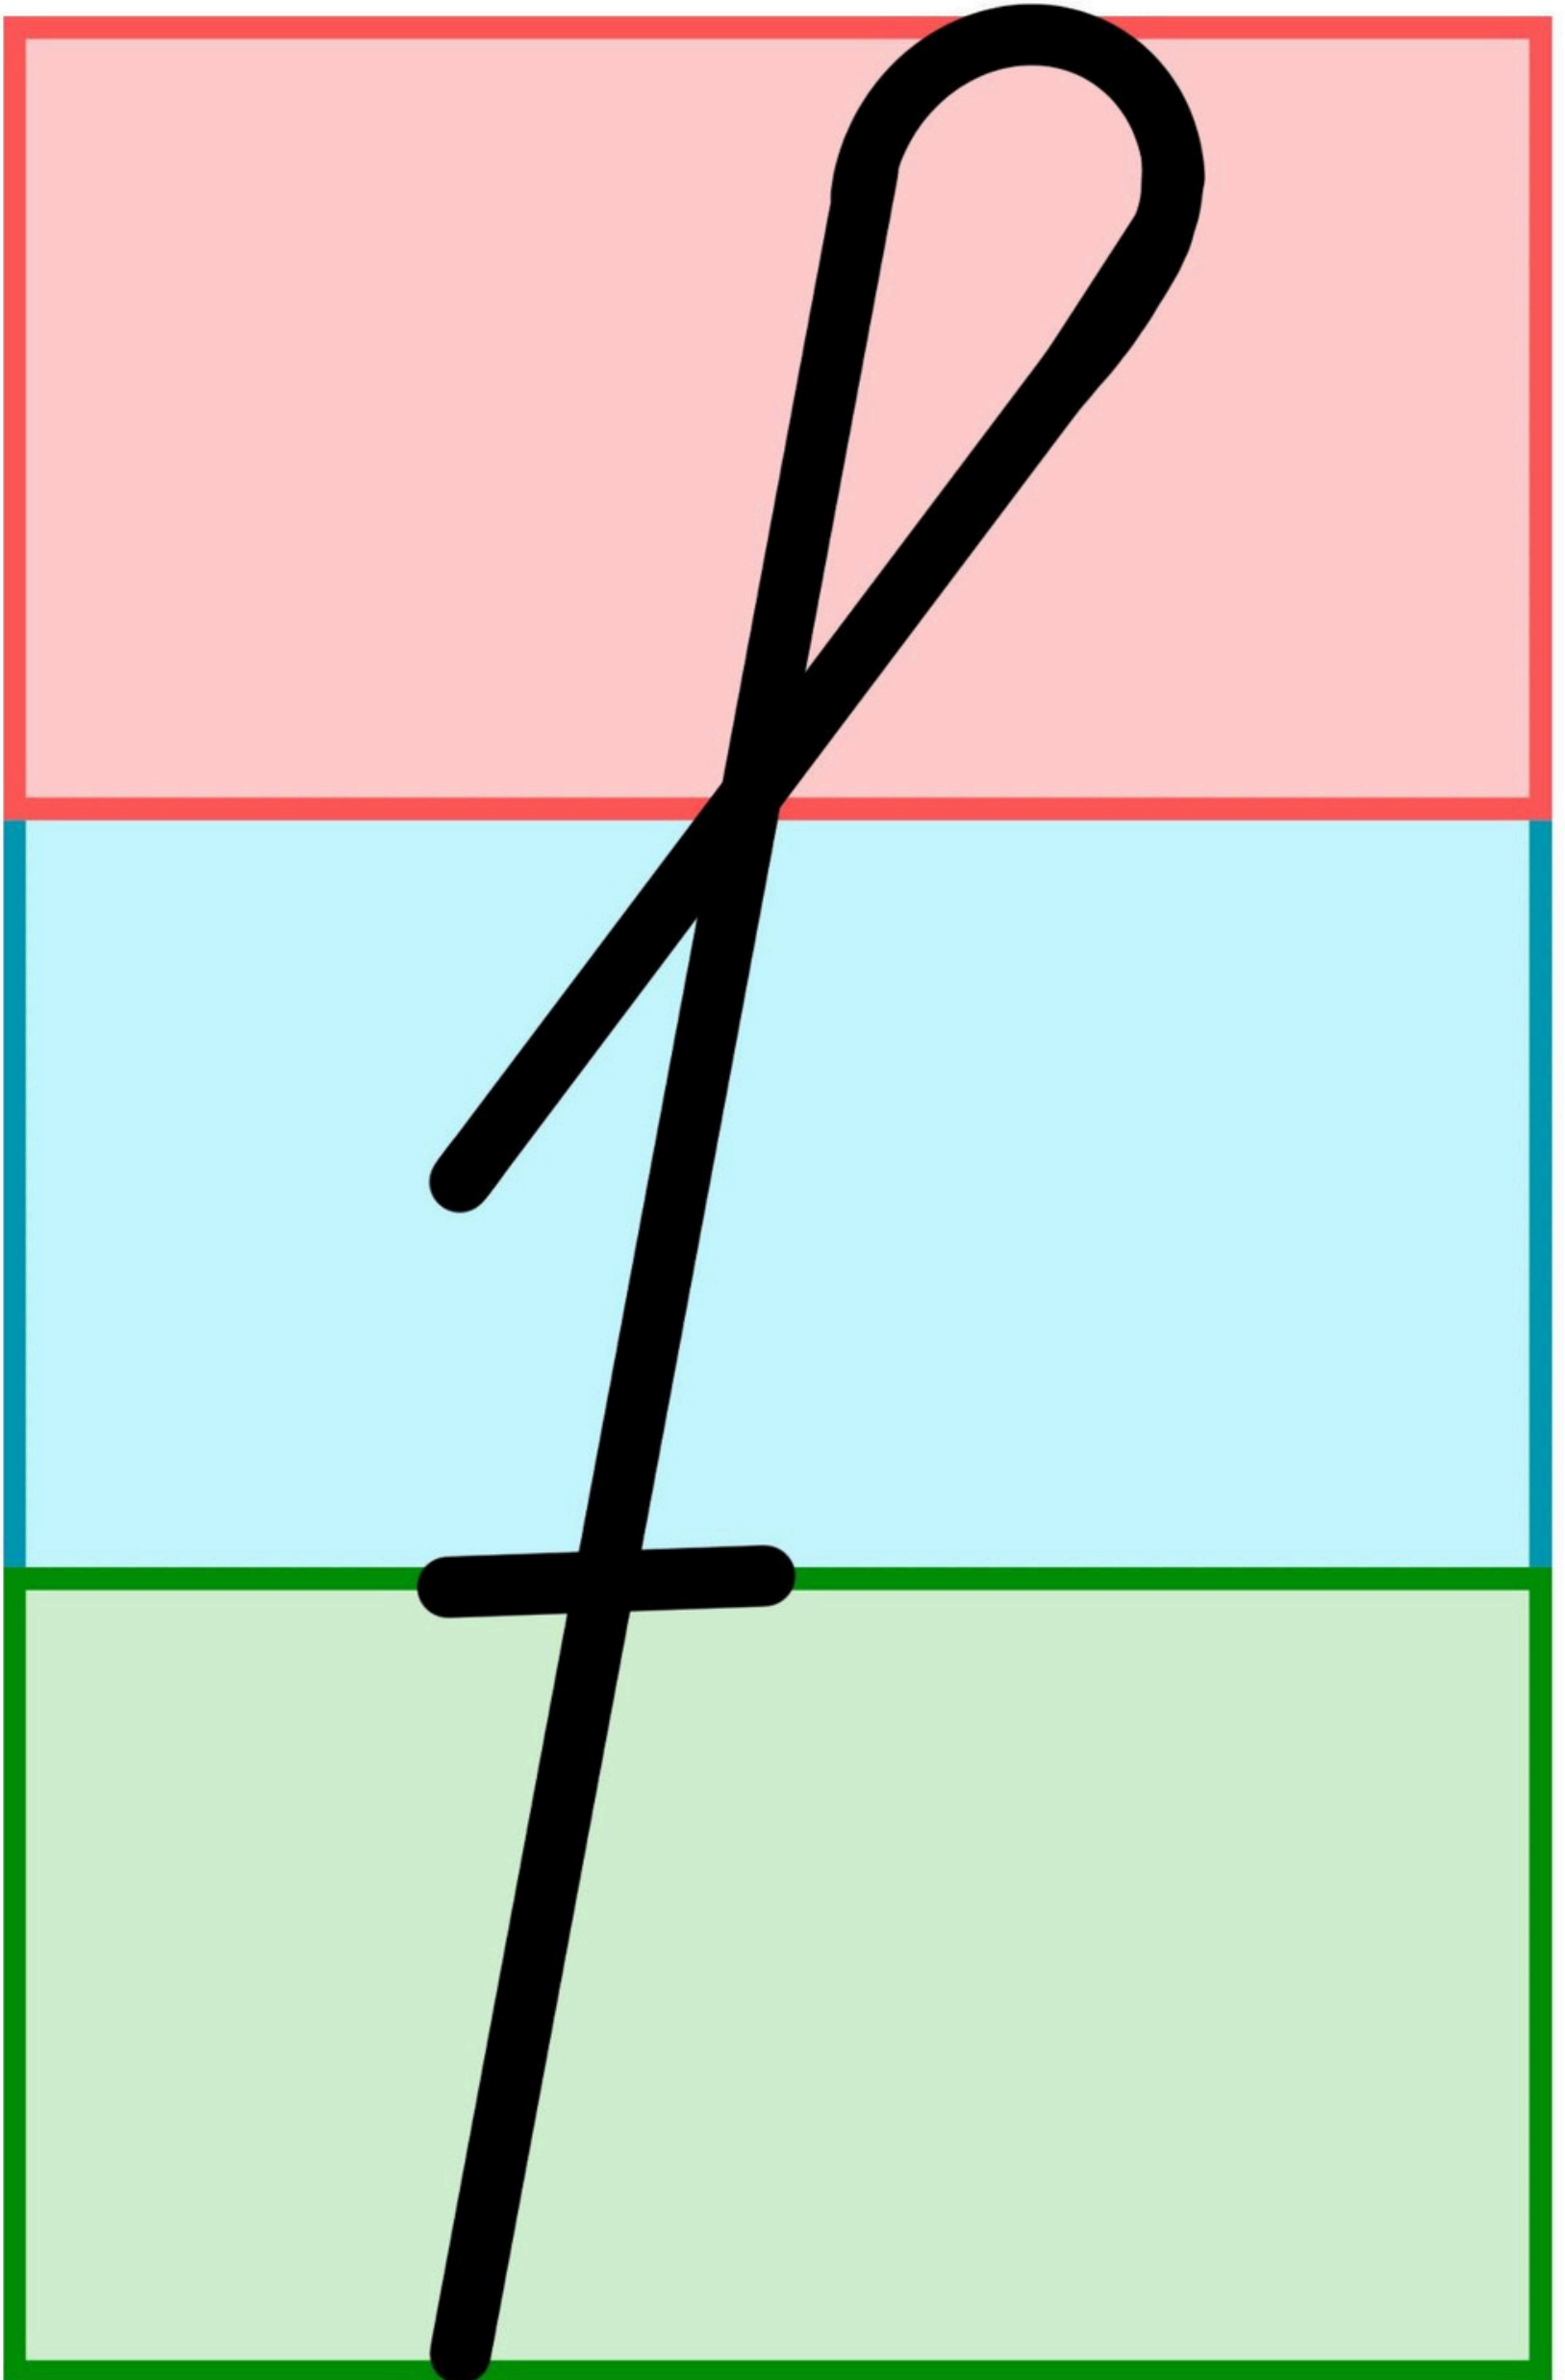

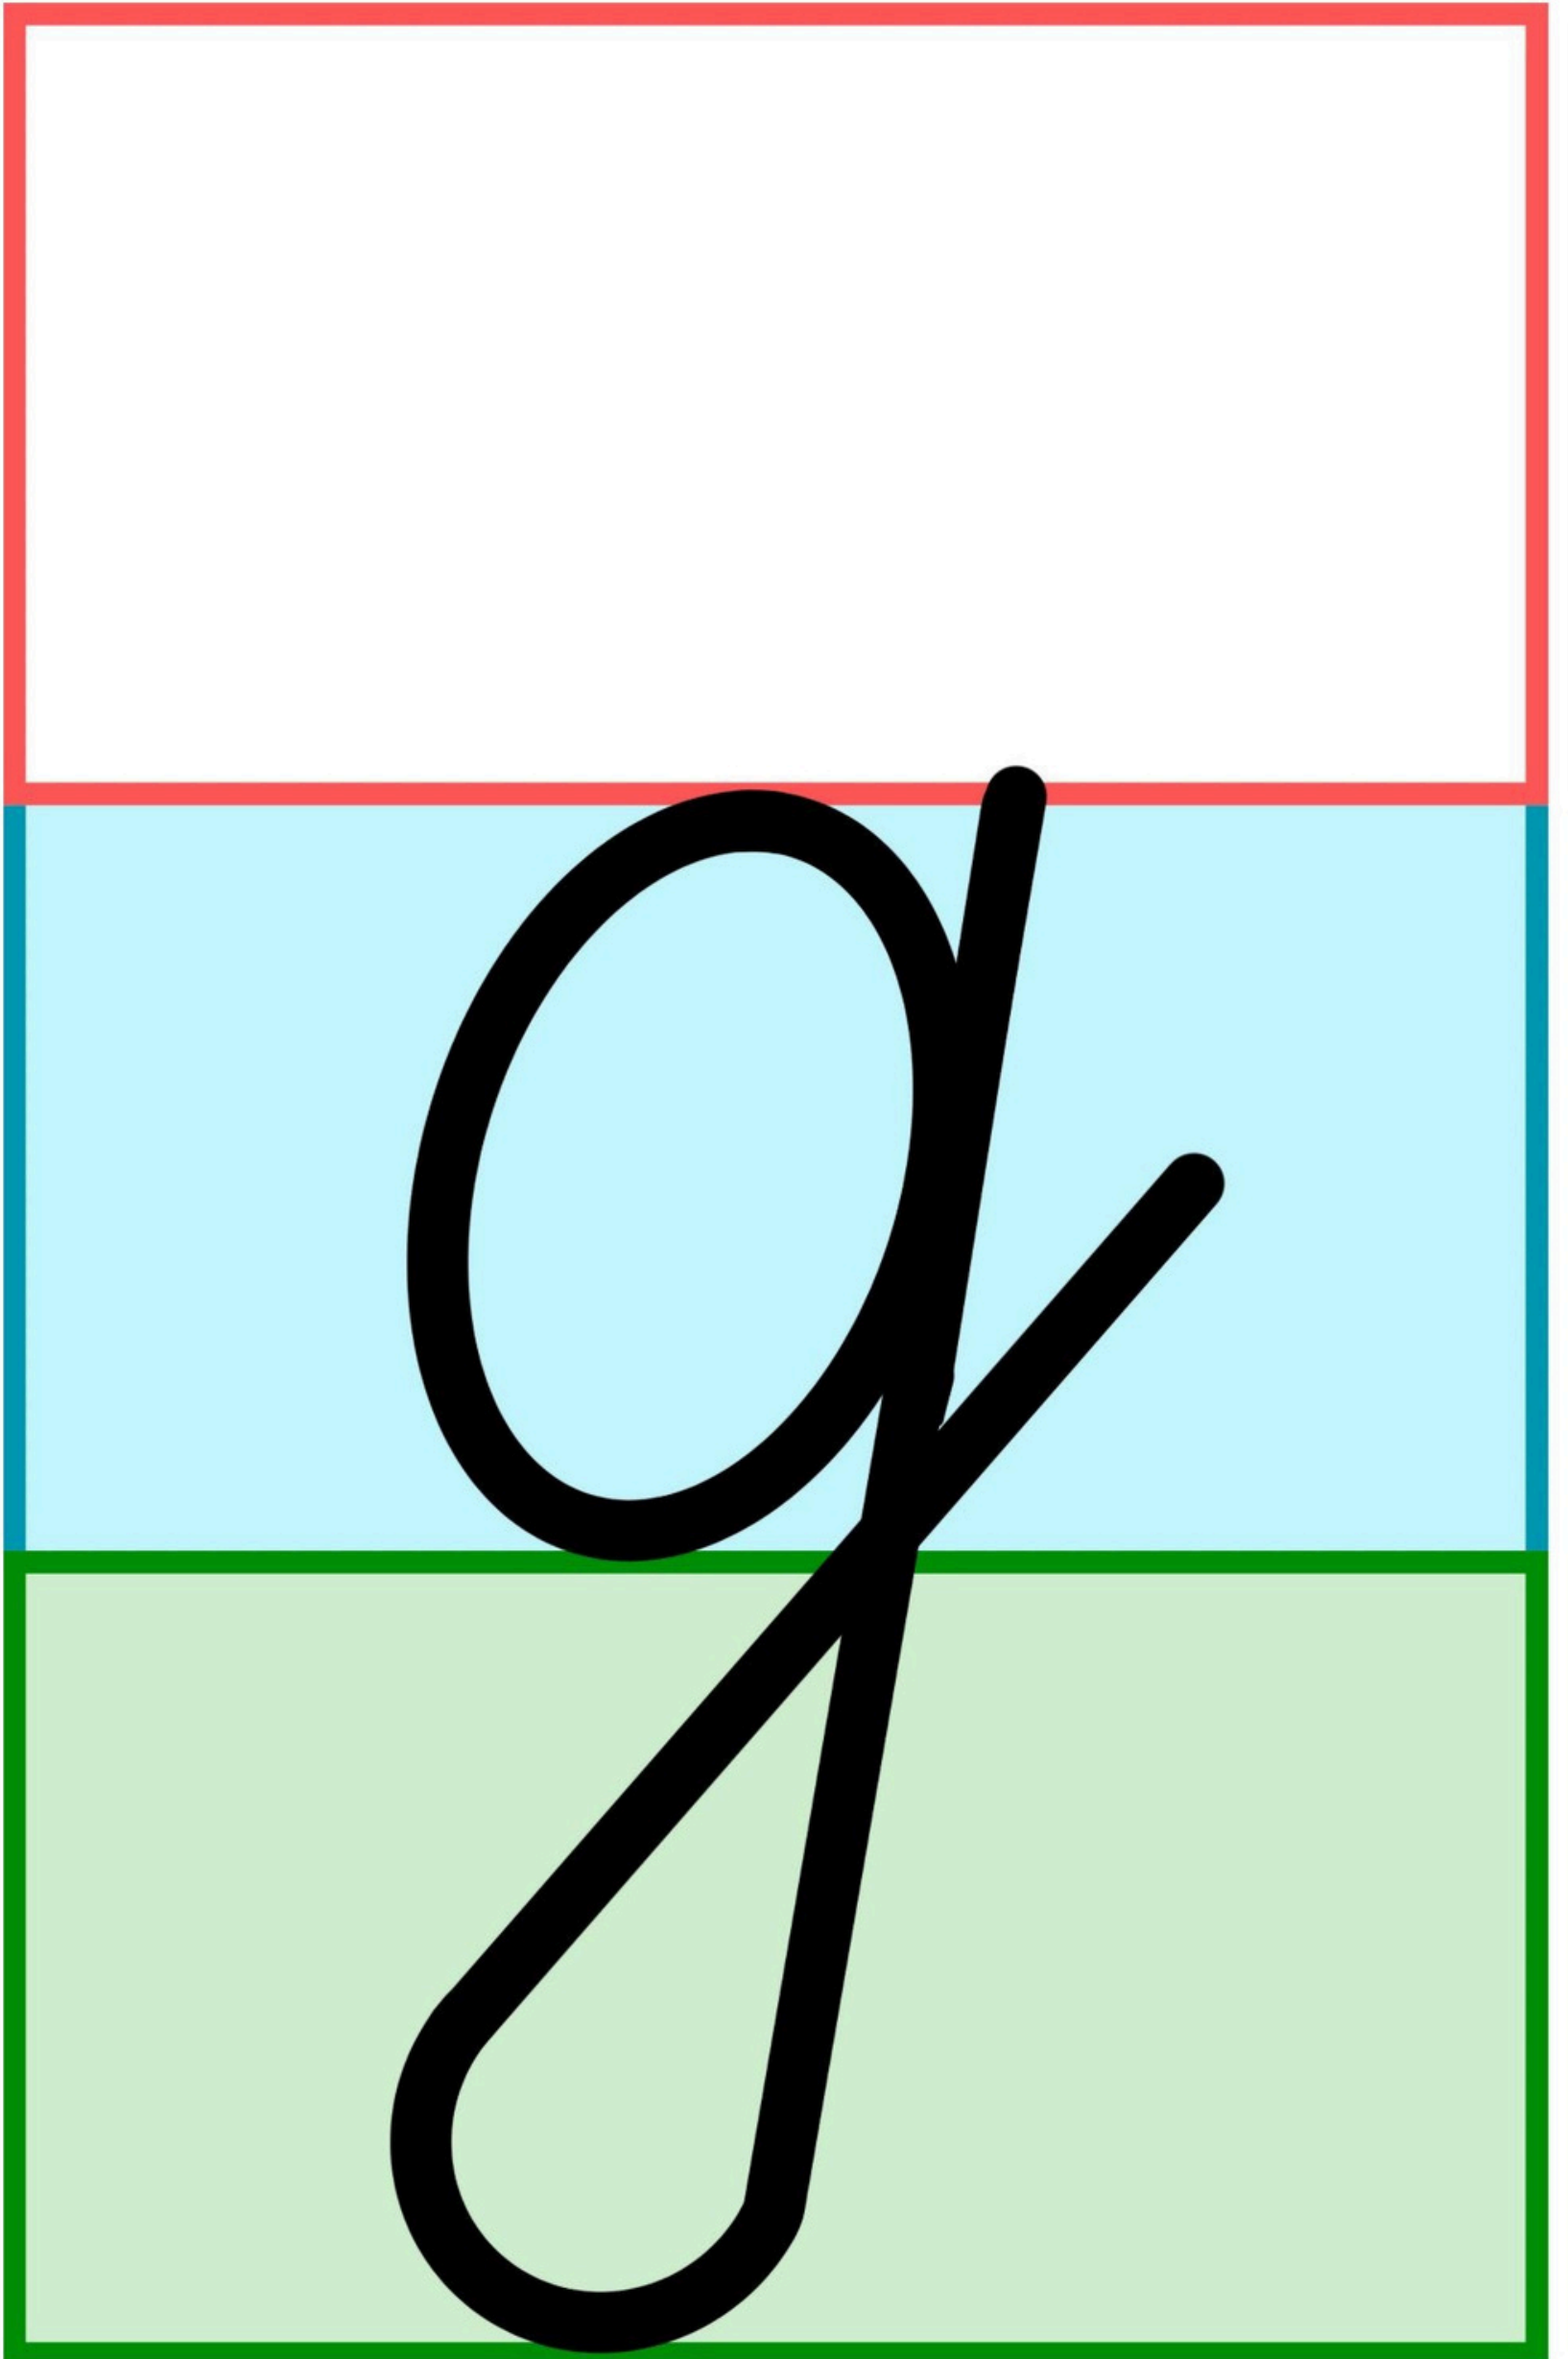

c

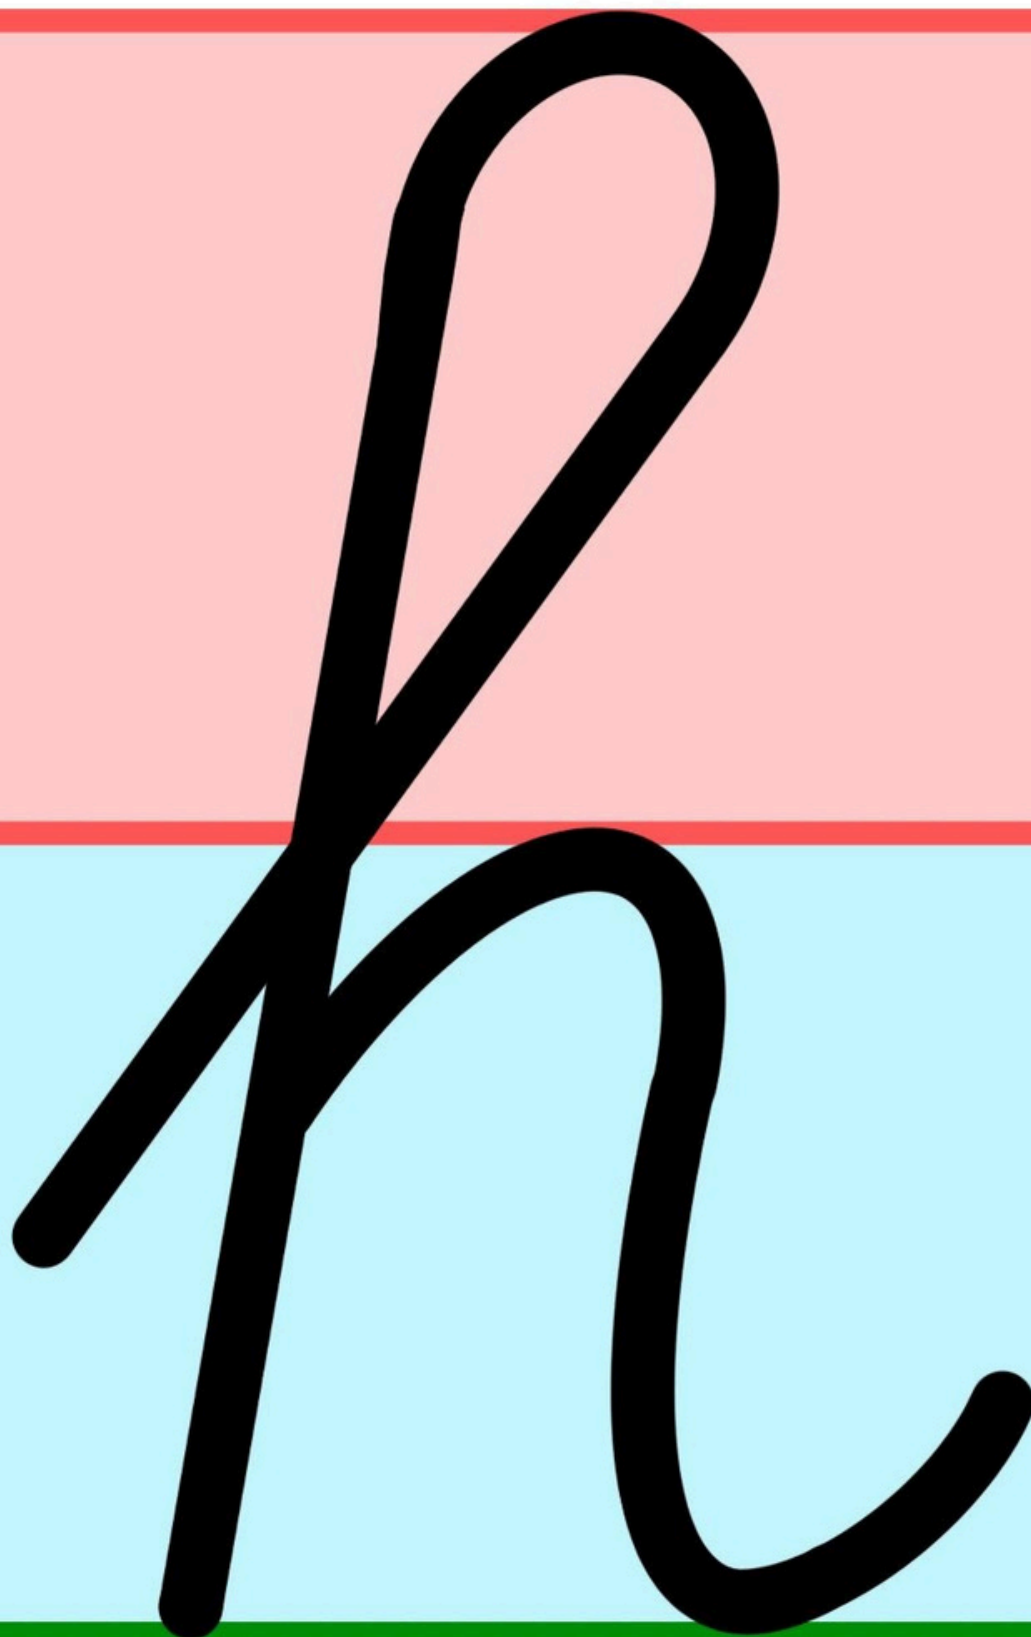

A large, black, cursive lowercase letter 'a' is centered on a background divided into three horizontal bands. The top band is light red with a red border. The middle band is light blue with a blue border. The bottom band is white with a green border. The letter 'a' starts with a vertical stroke that goes from the top red band down into the middle blue band, then loops back up into the red band and down into the blue band to form the bowl of the letter, and finally curves to the right and down to end in the blue band.

A large, black, cursive lowercase letter 'e' is centered within a light blue horizontal band. The band is bordered by a red line above and a green line below. The top and bottom sections of the page are white with red and green borders respectively.

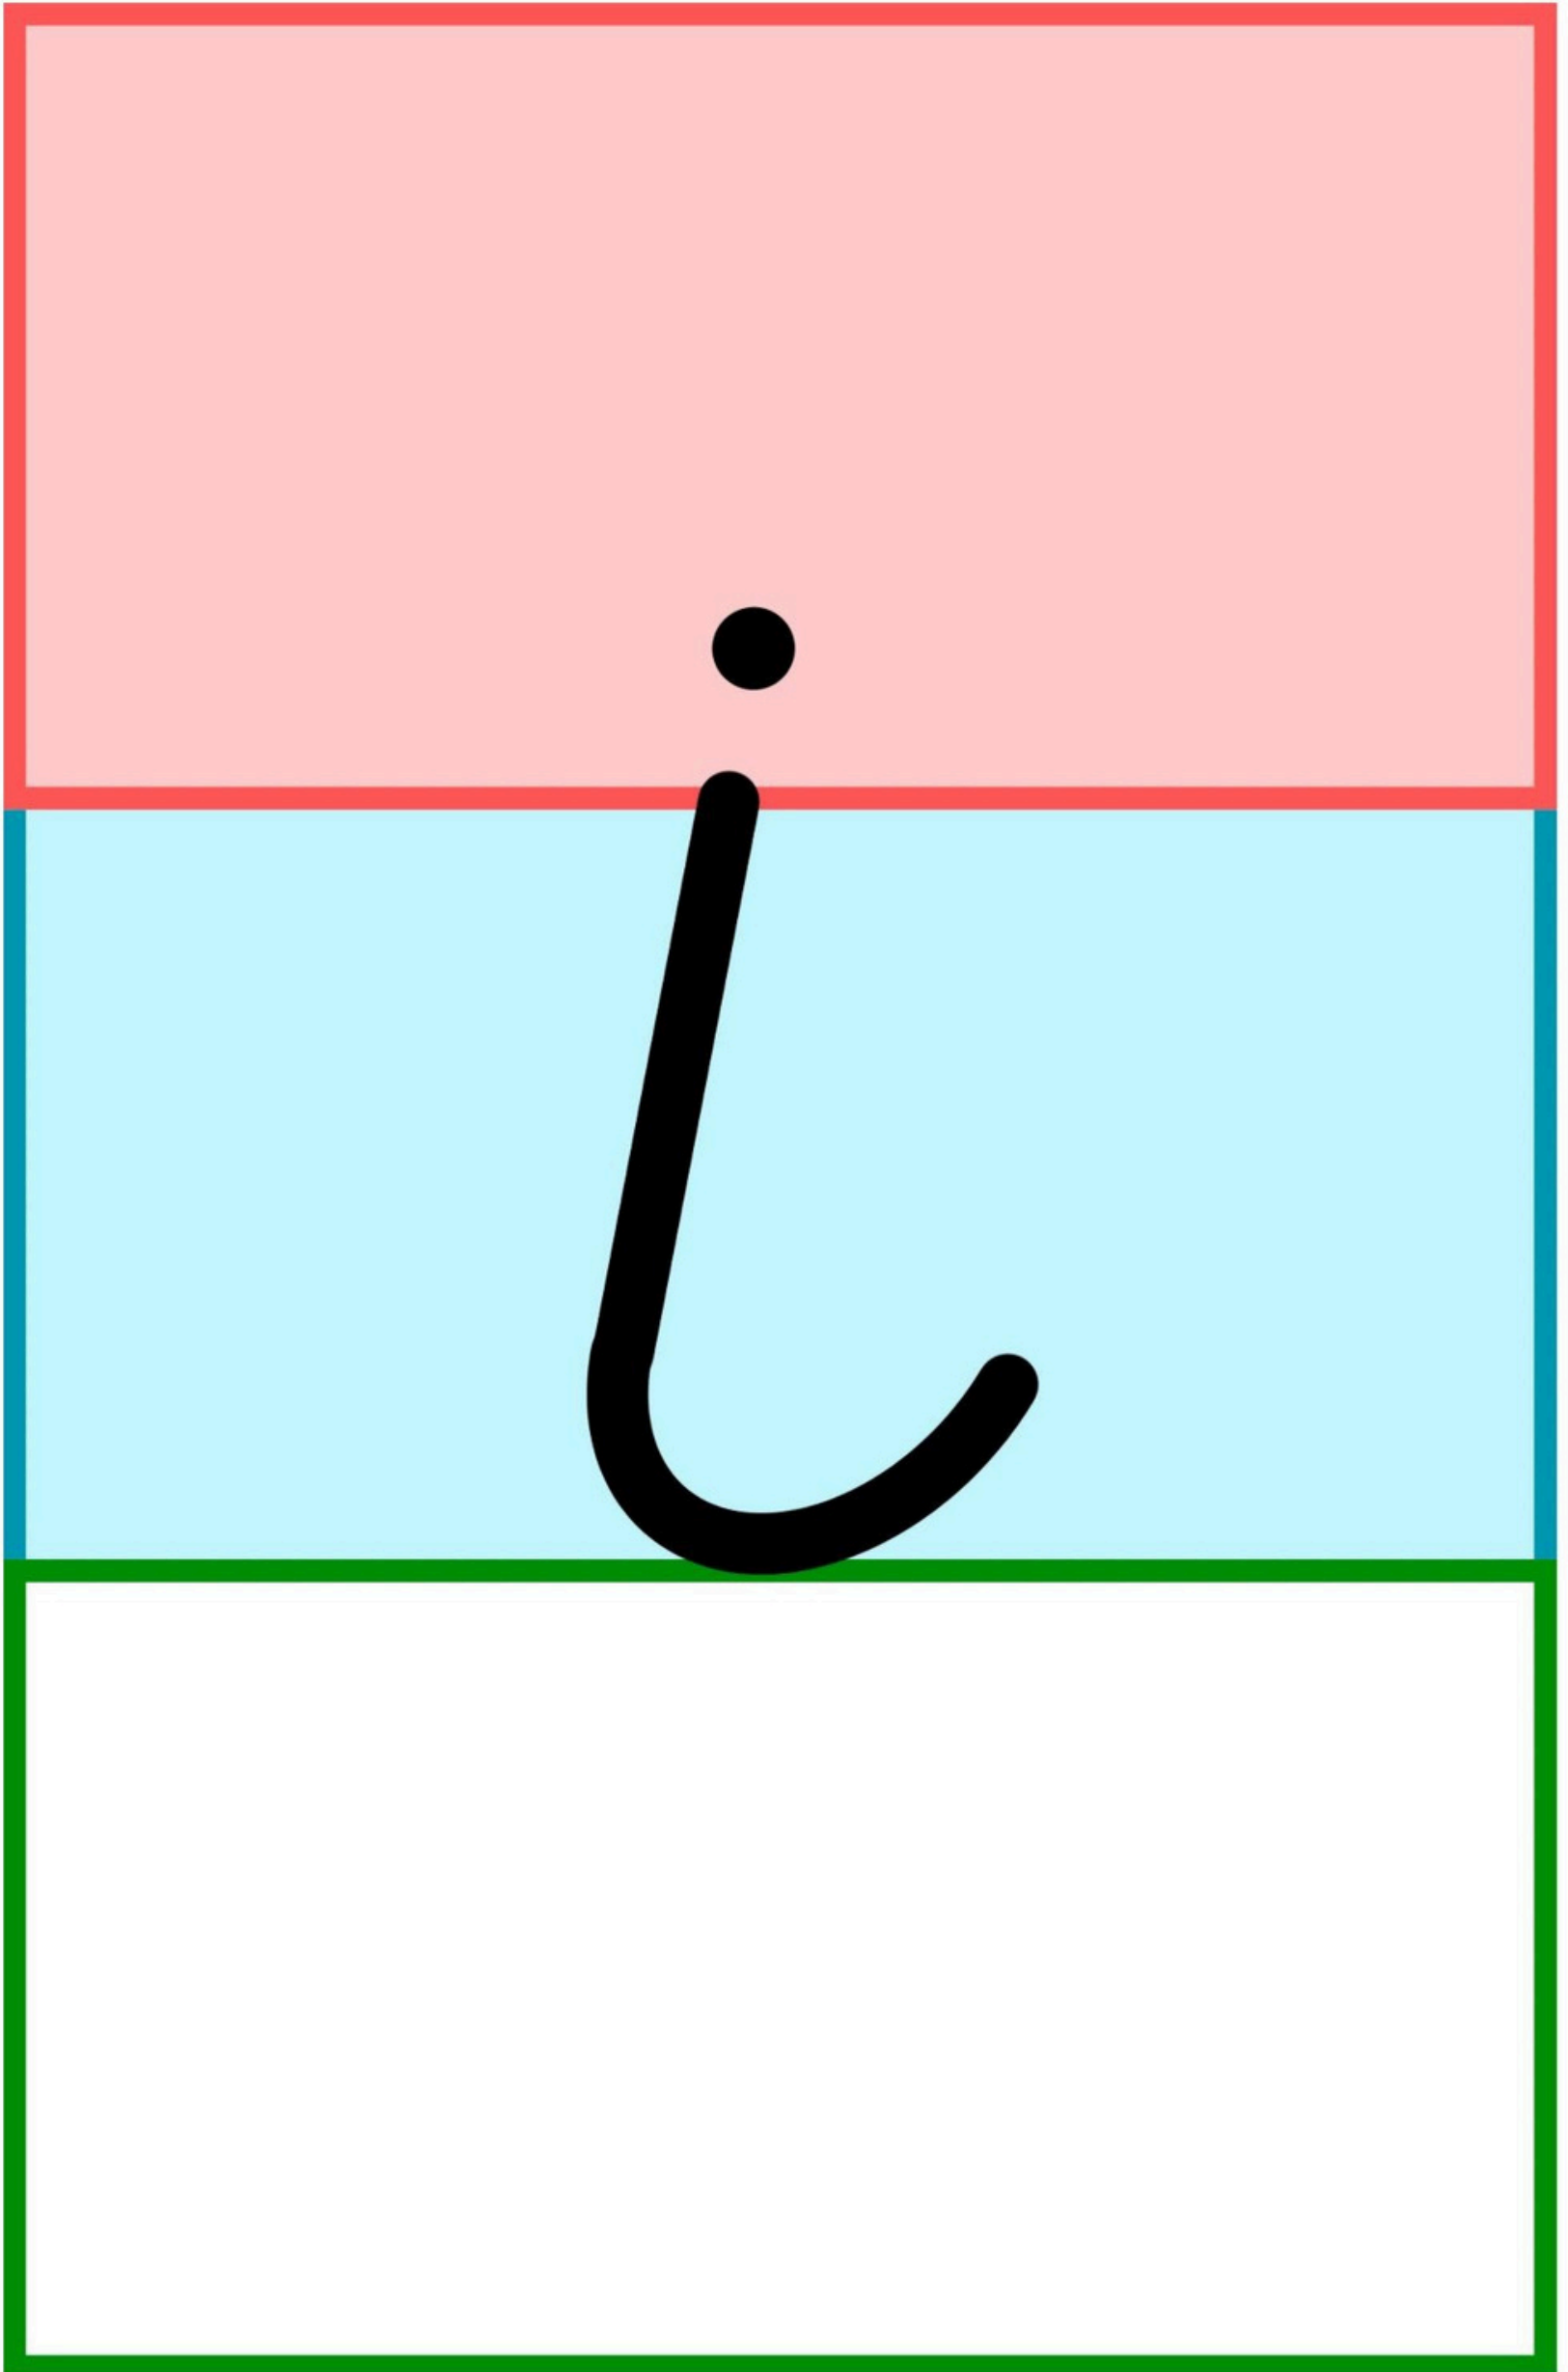

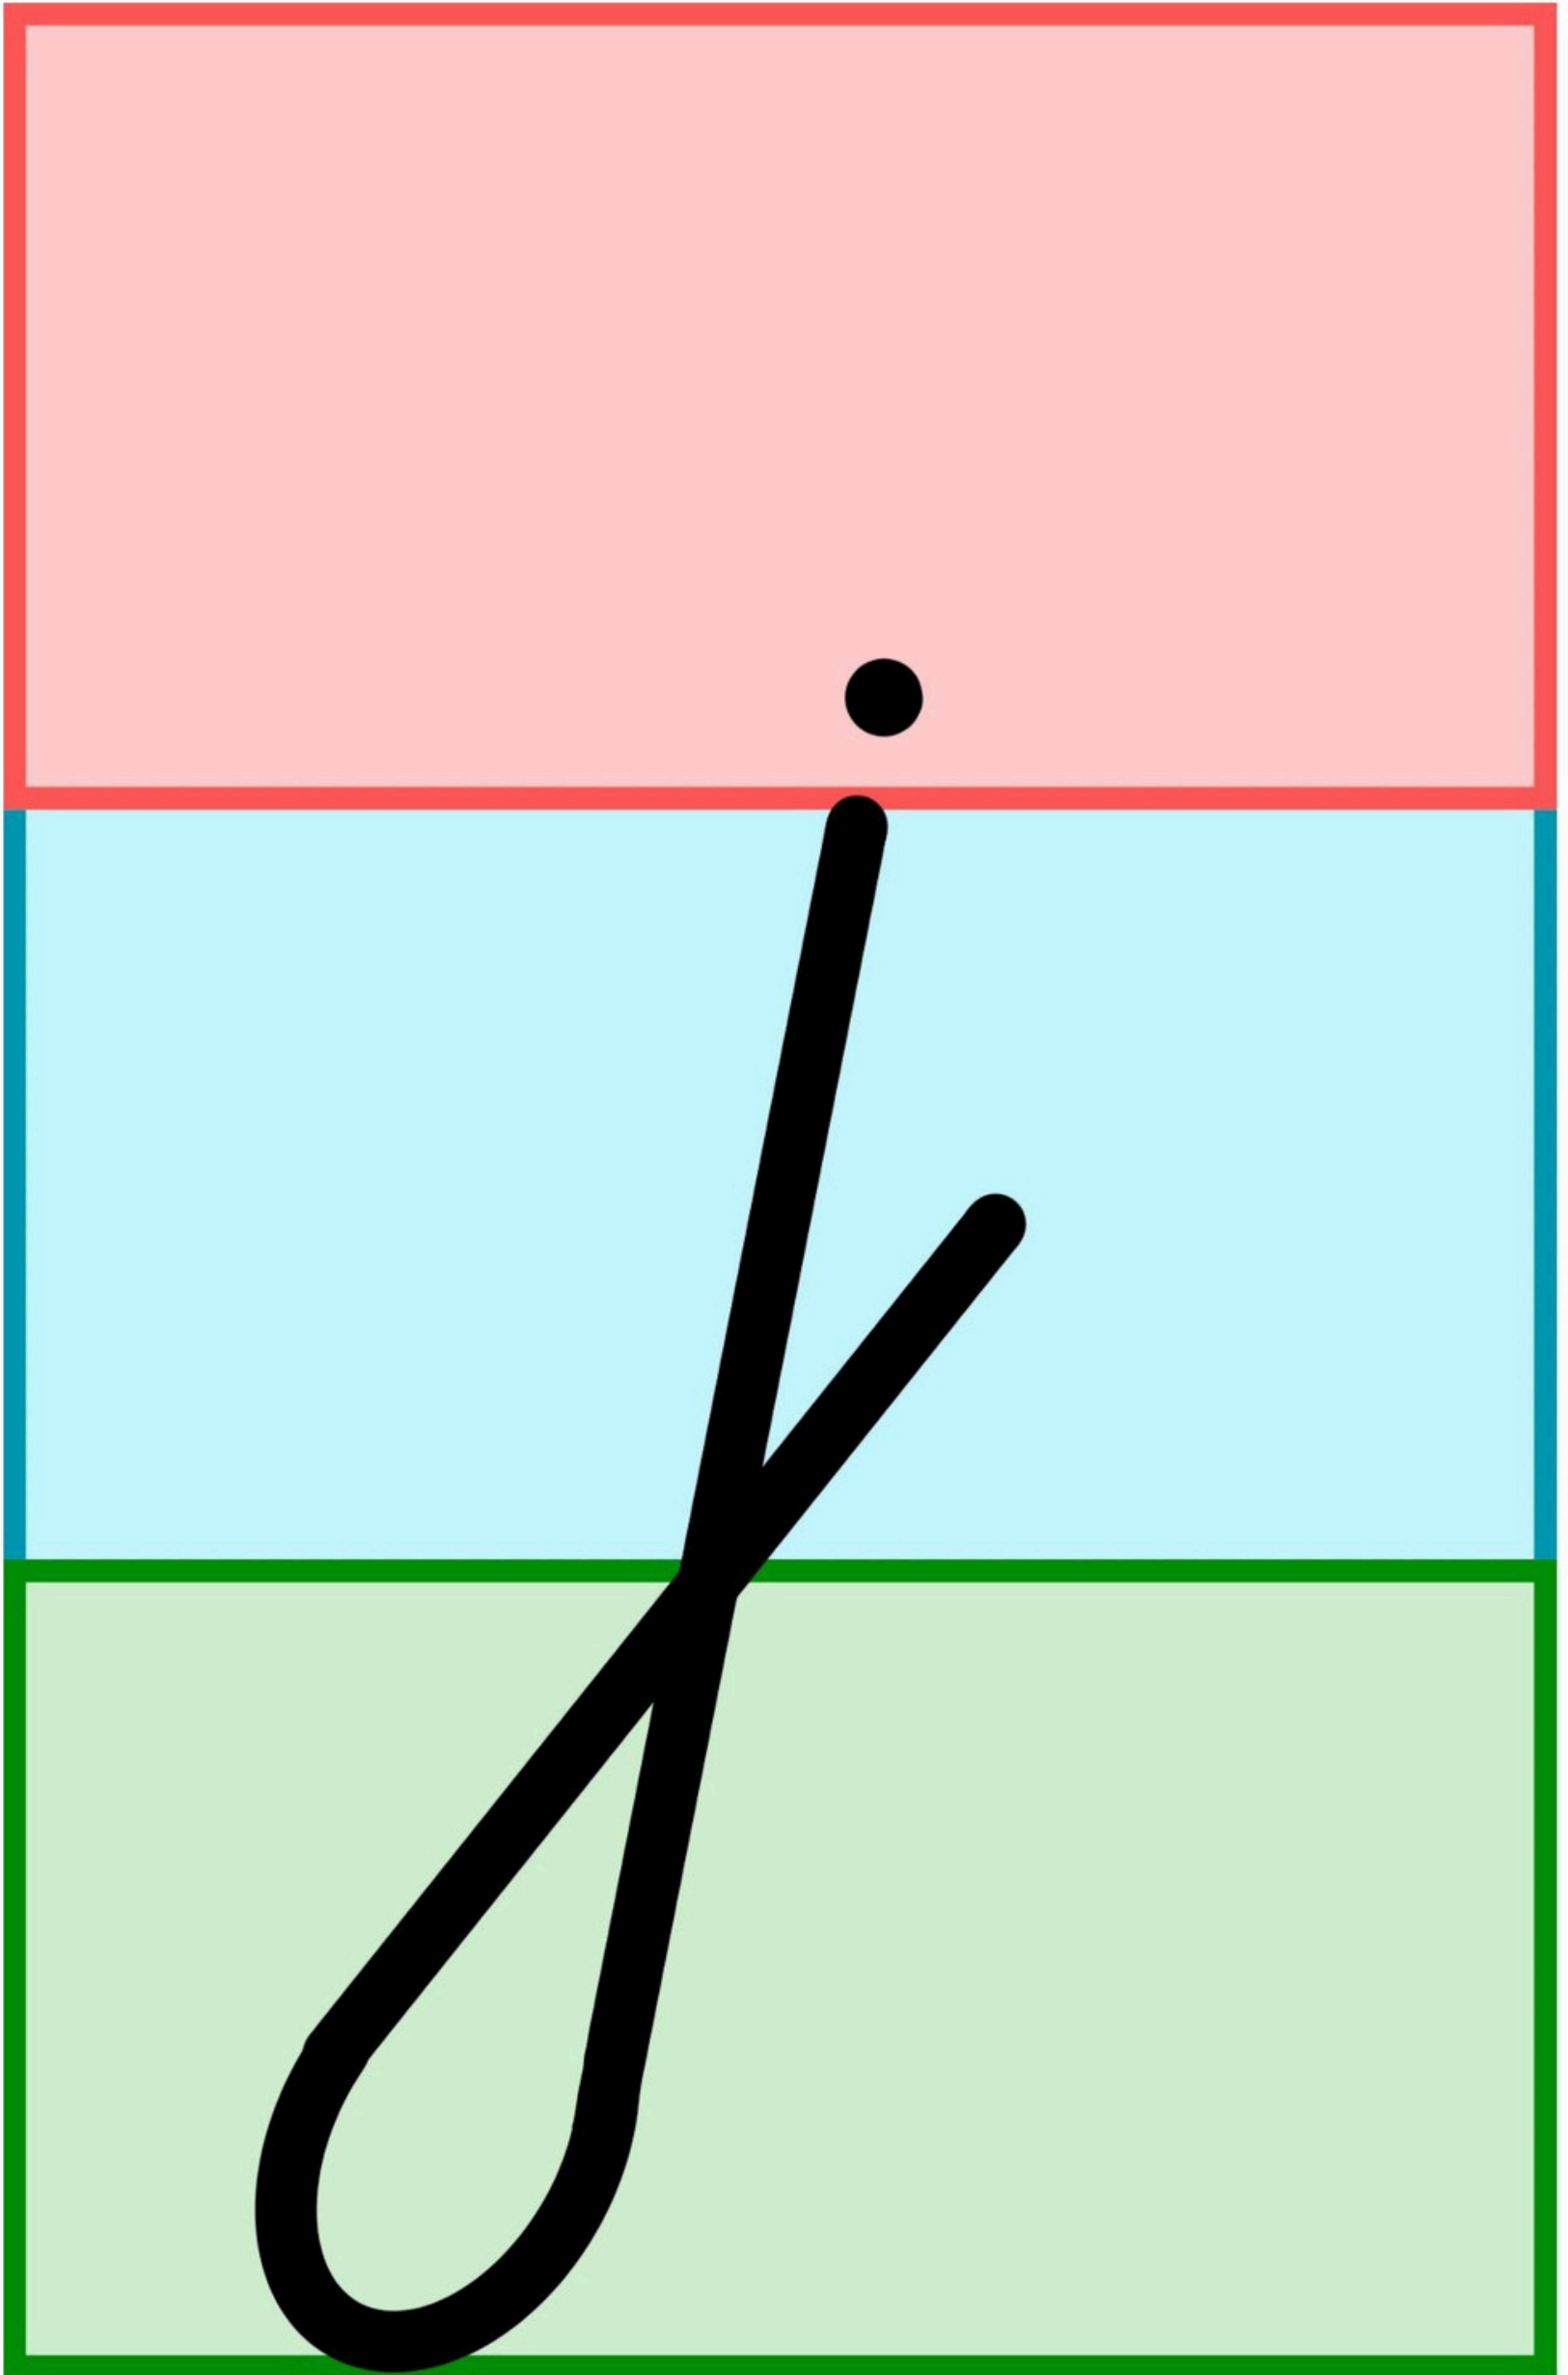

n

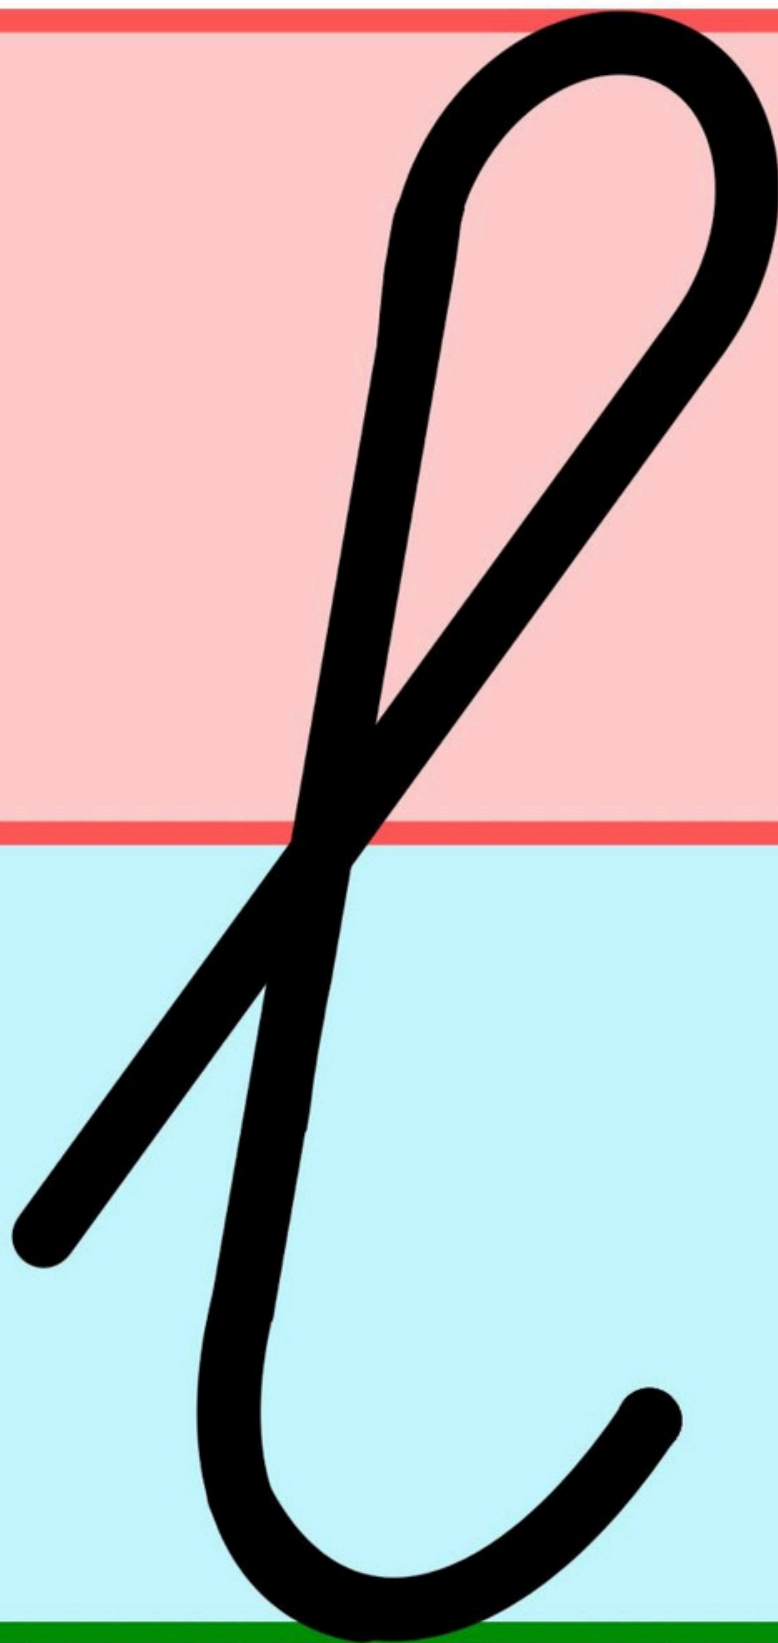

The image shows a large, black, cursive lowercase letter 'n' centered on a background divided into three horizontal bands. The top band is light red with a red border, the middle band is light blue with a blue border, and the bottom band is white with a green border. The letter 'n' starts in the red band, crosses the red-blue boundary, and ends in the blue band.

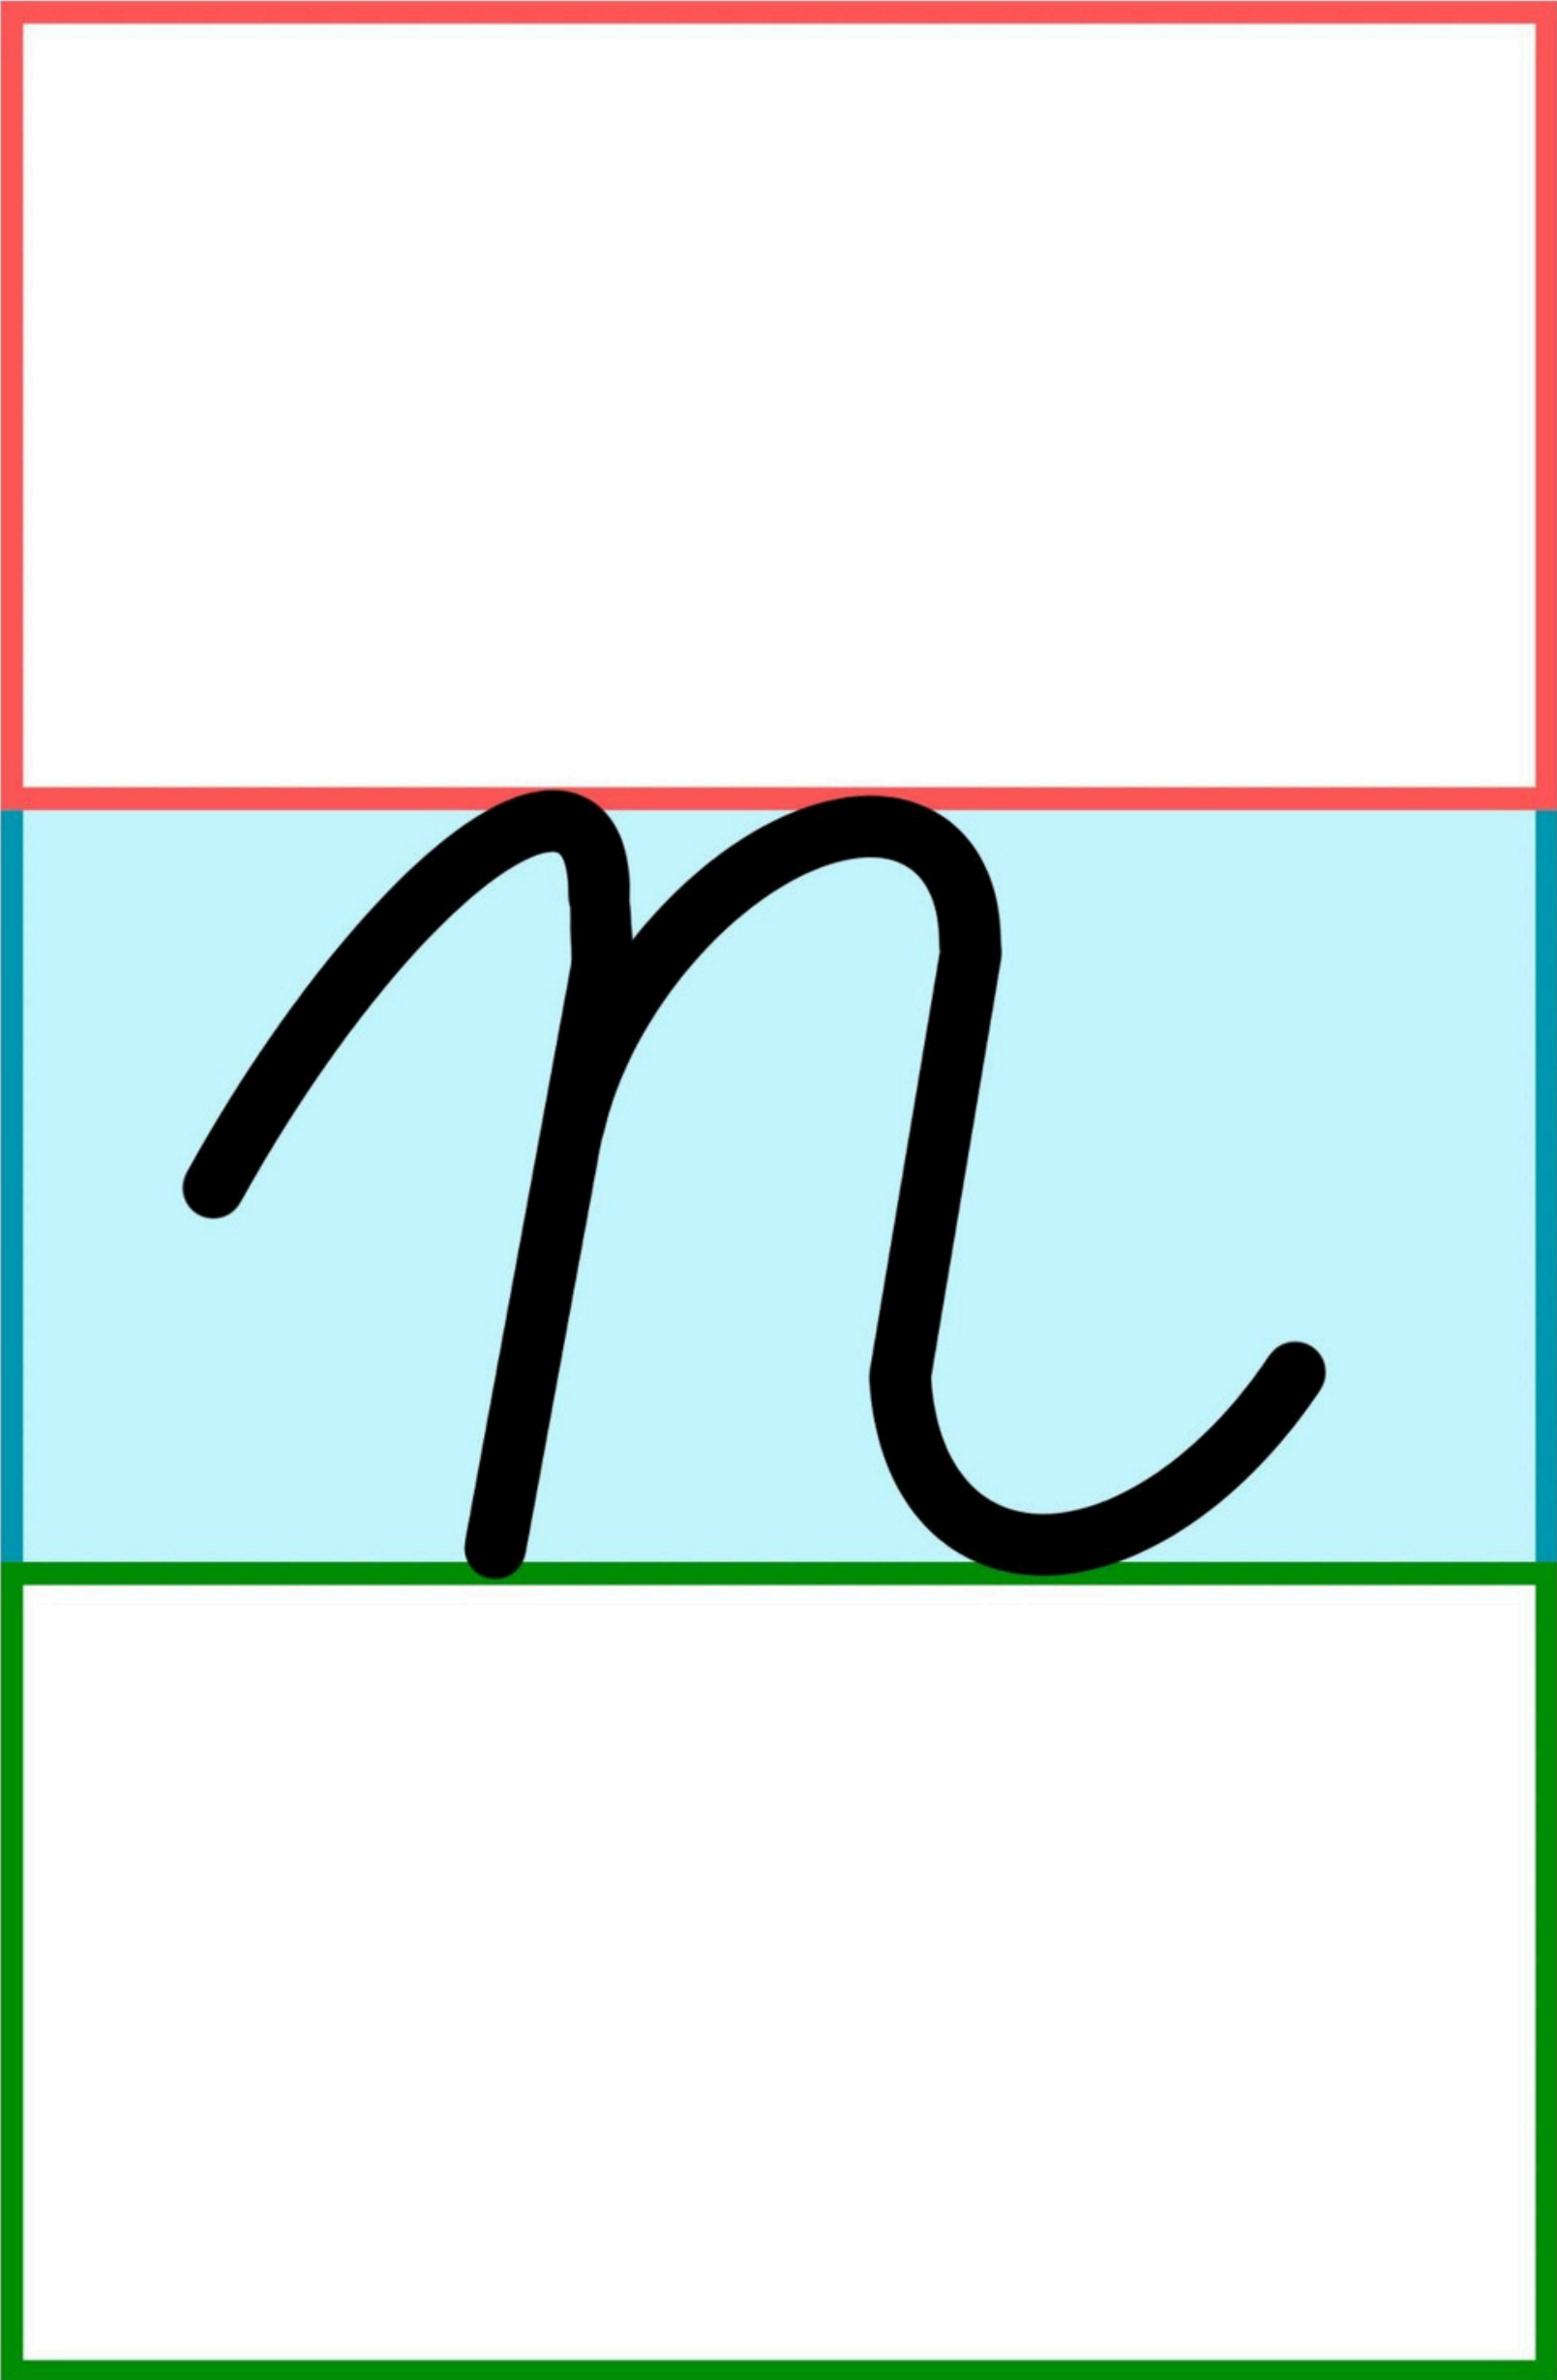

k

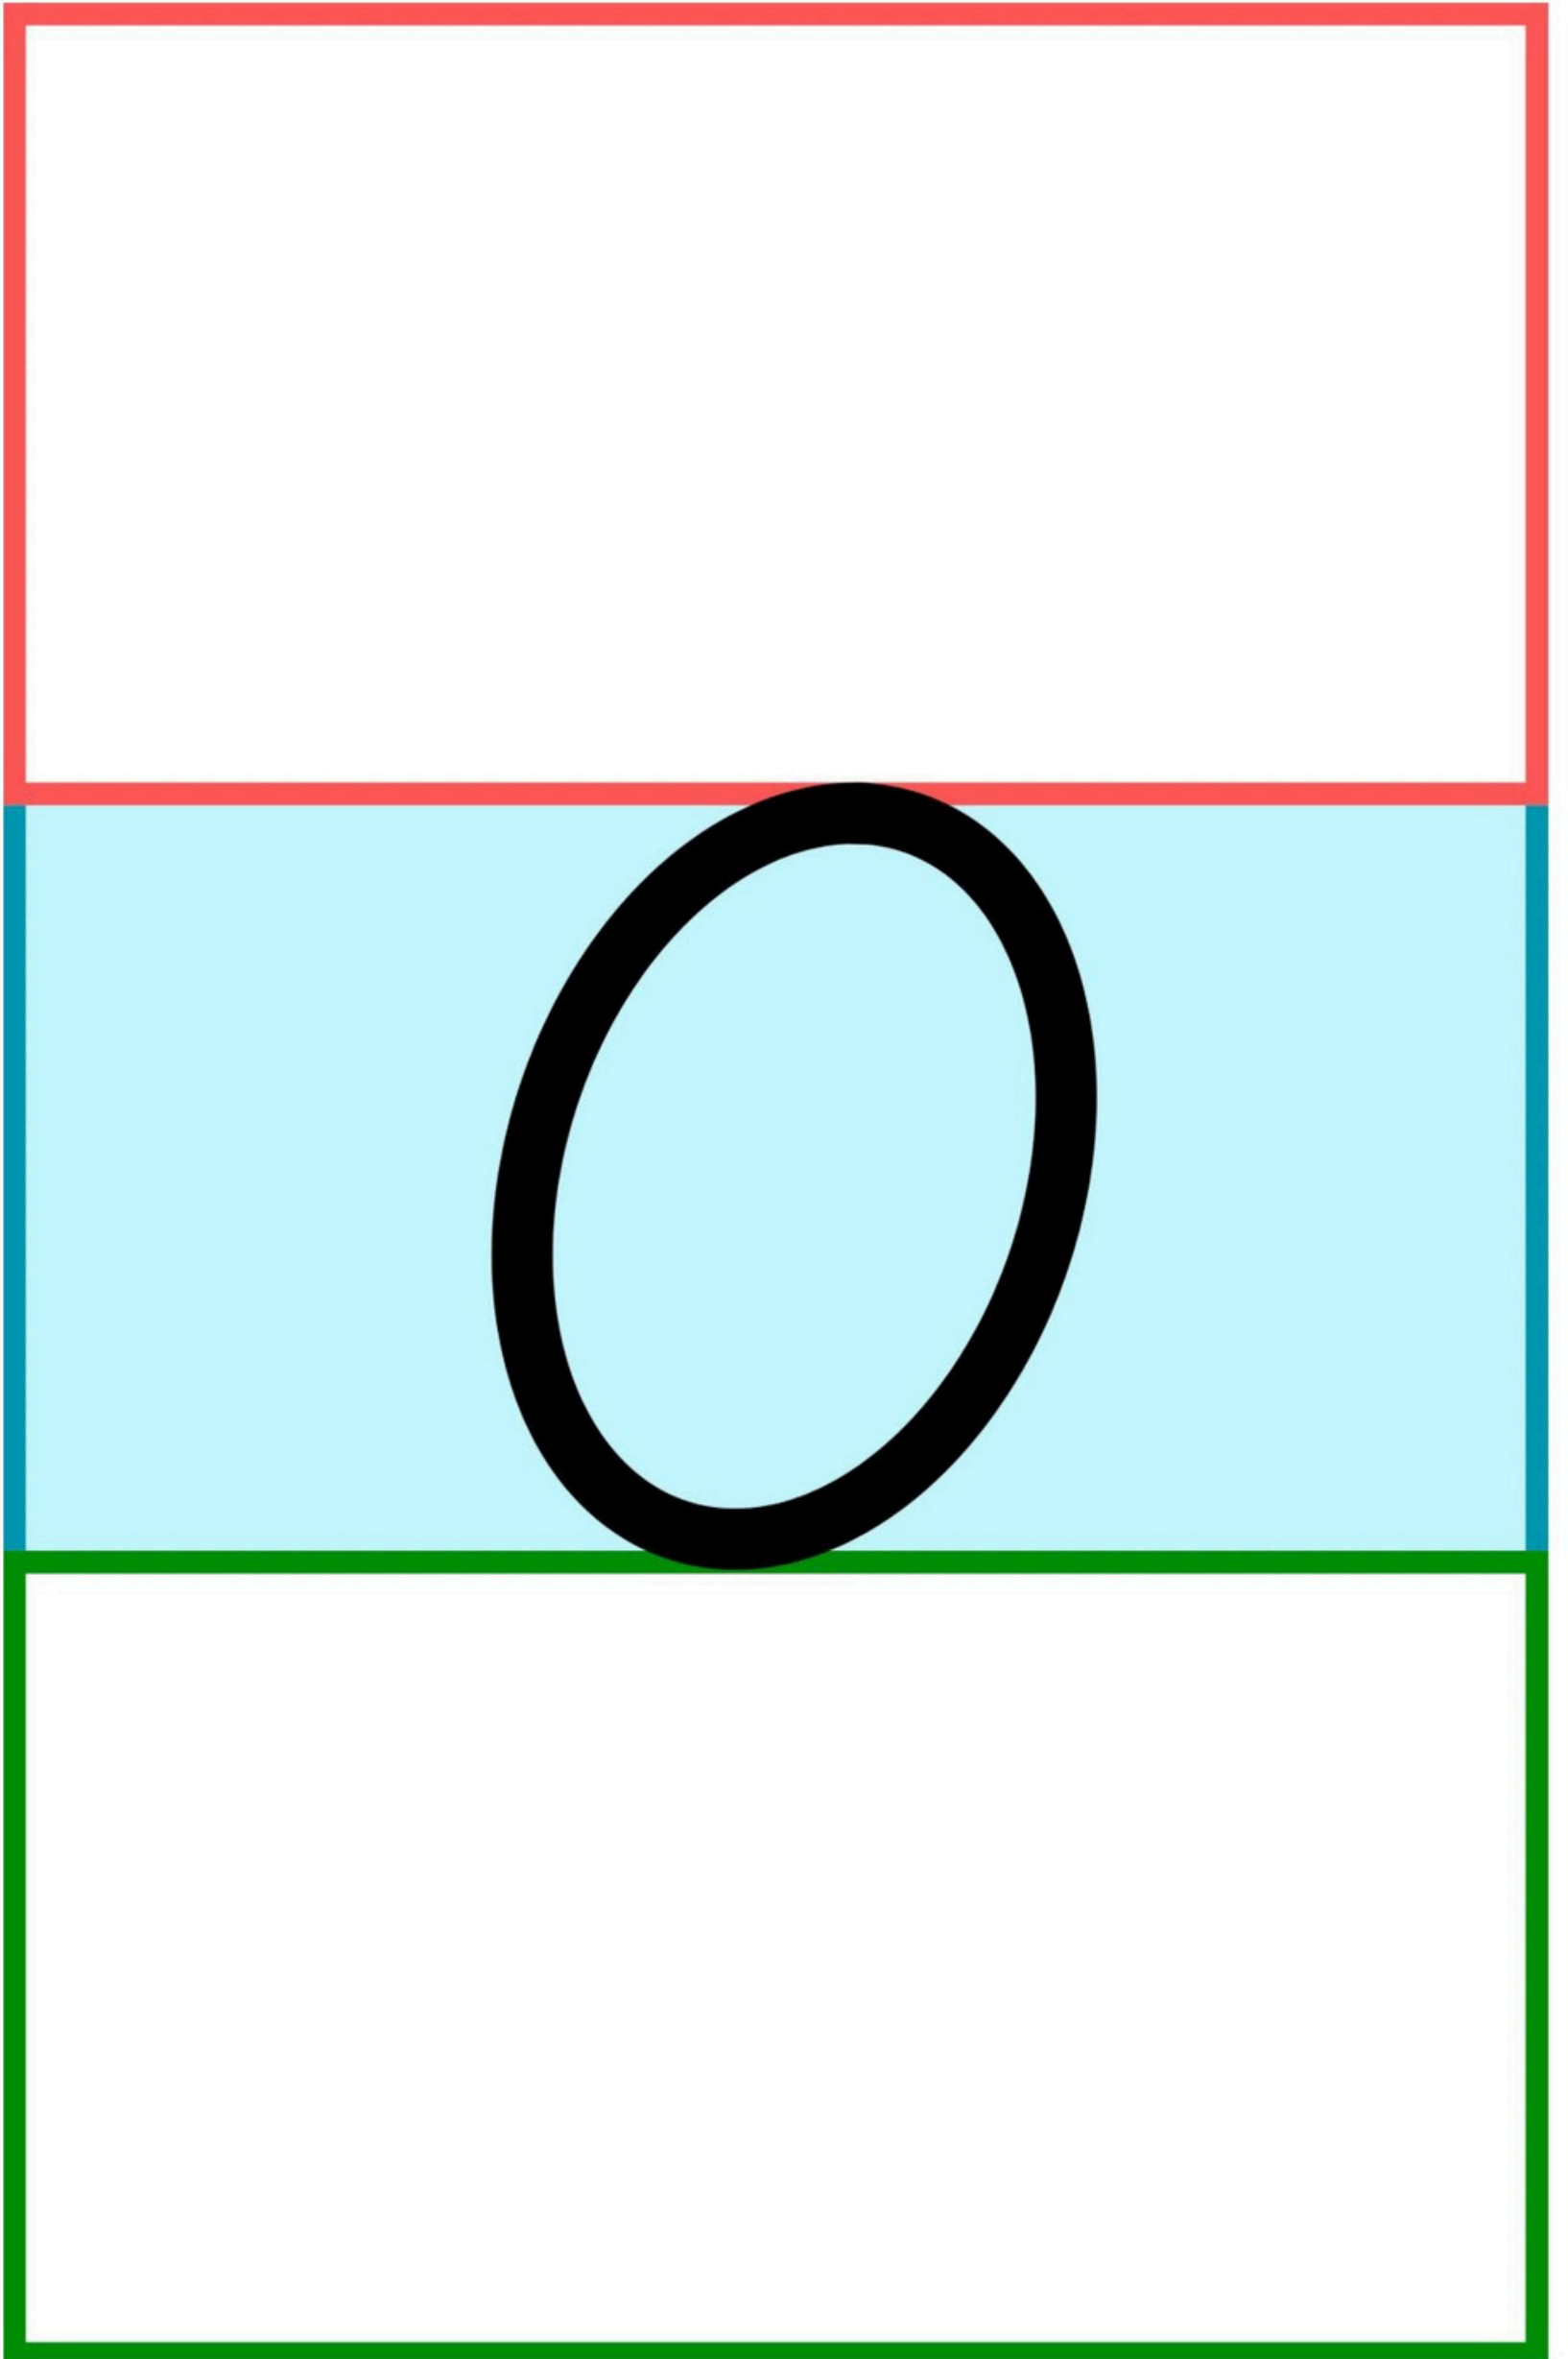

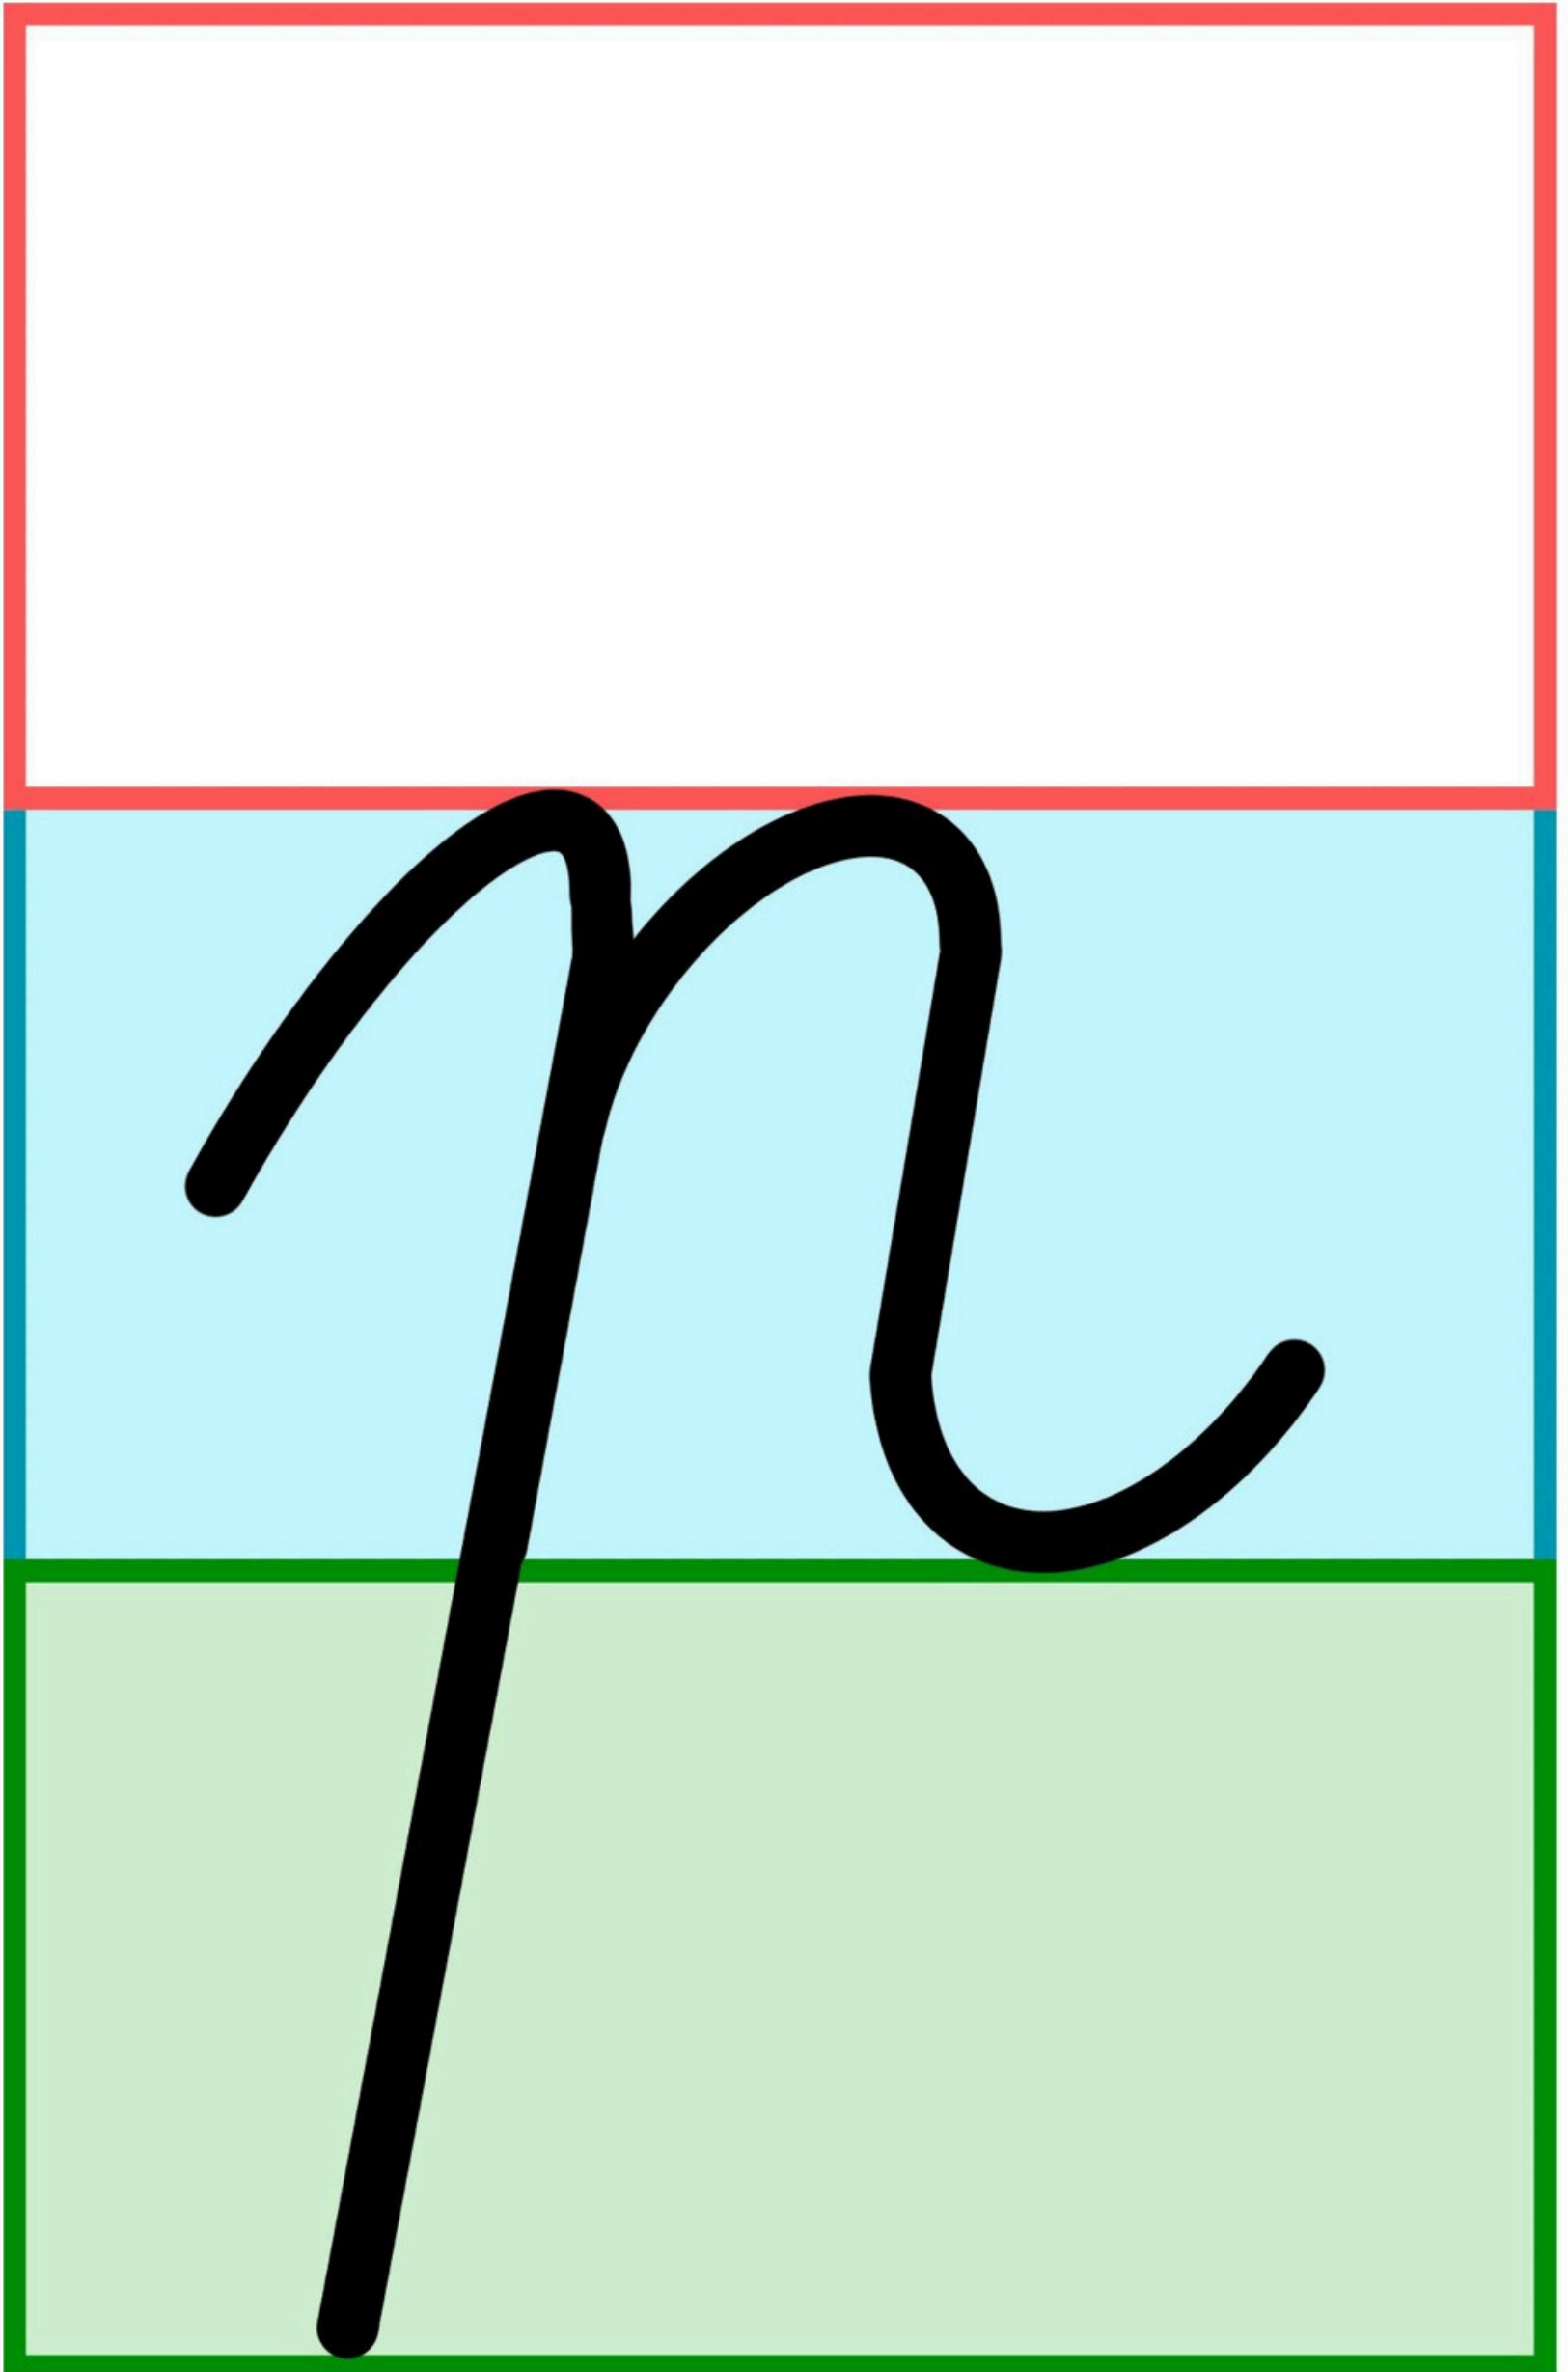

m m m

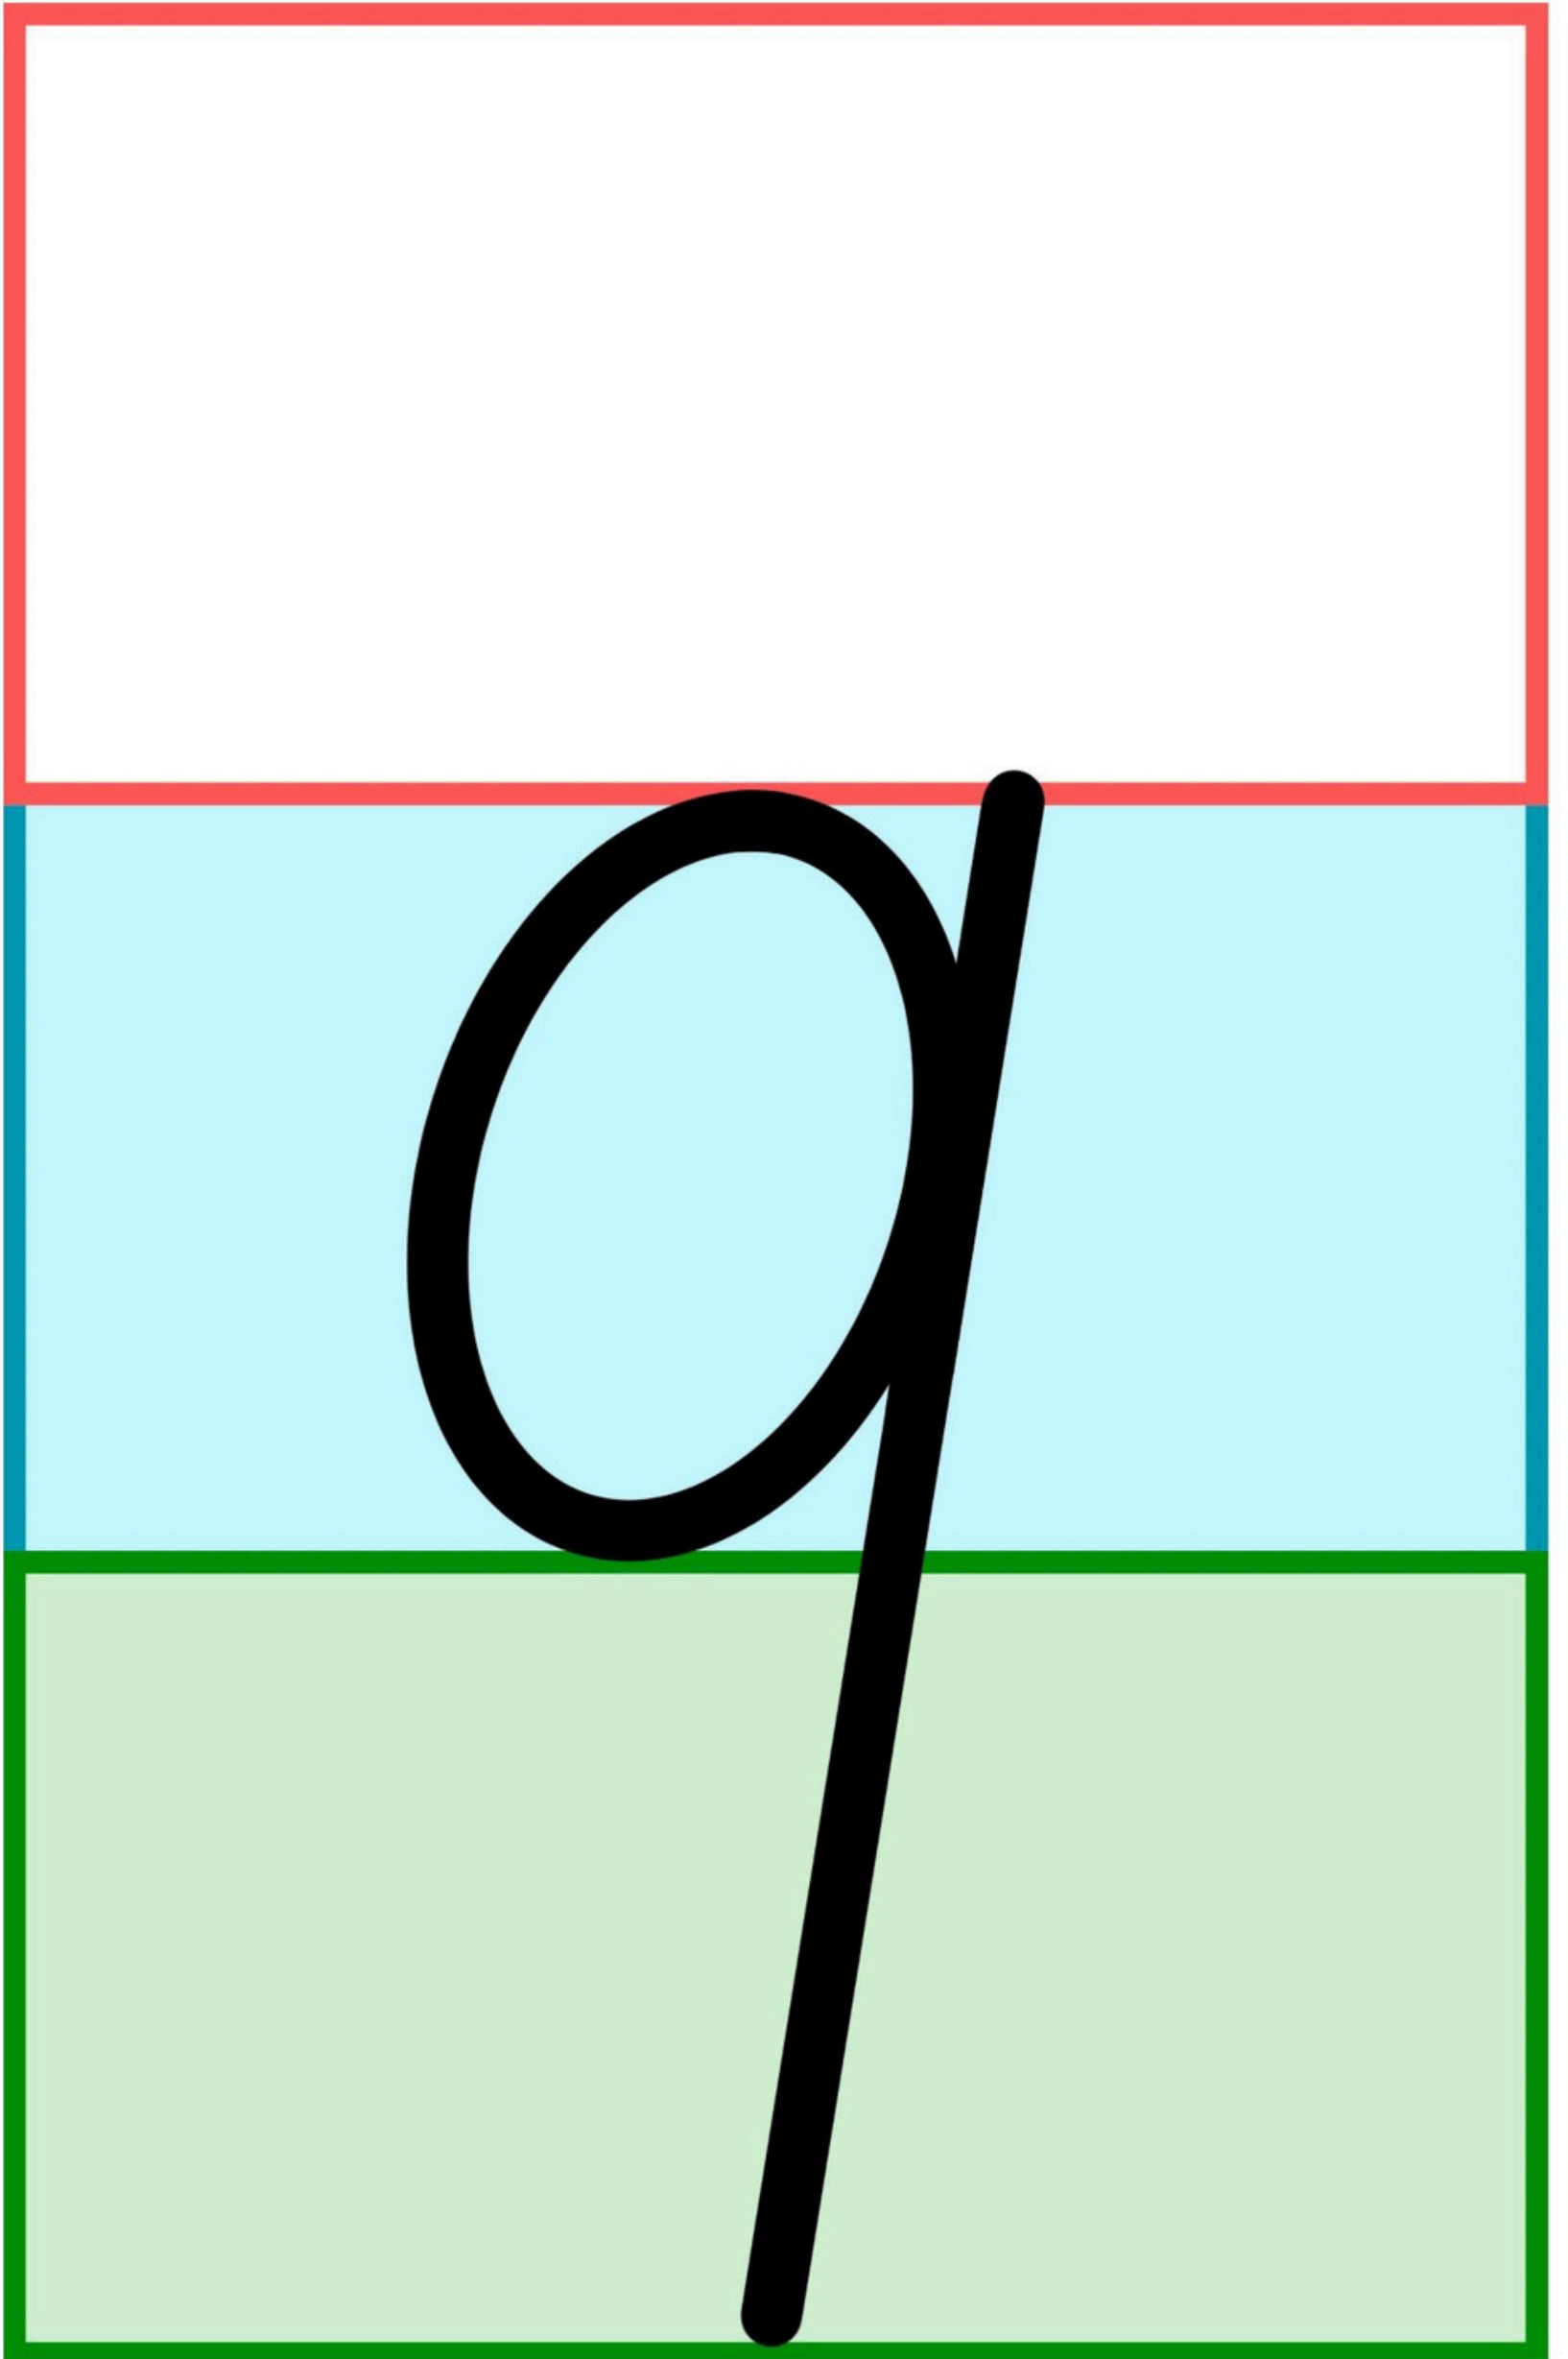

A handwriting practice sheet for the cursive letter 'n'. The page is divided into three horizontal sections by red and green lines. The top section is white and empty. The middle section is light blue and contains a large, black, cursive letter 'n'. The bottom section is white and empty. The entire page is framed by a red border at the top and a green border at the bottom.

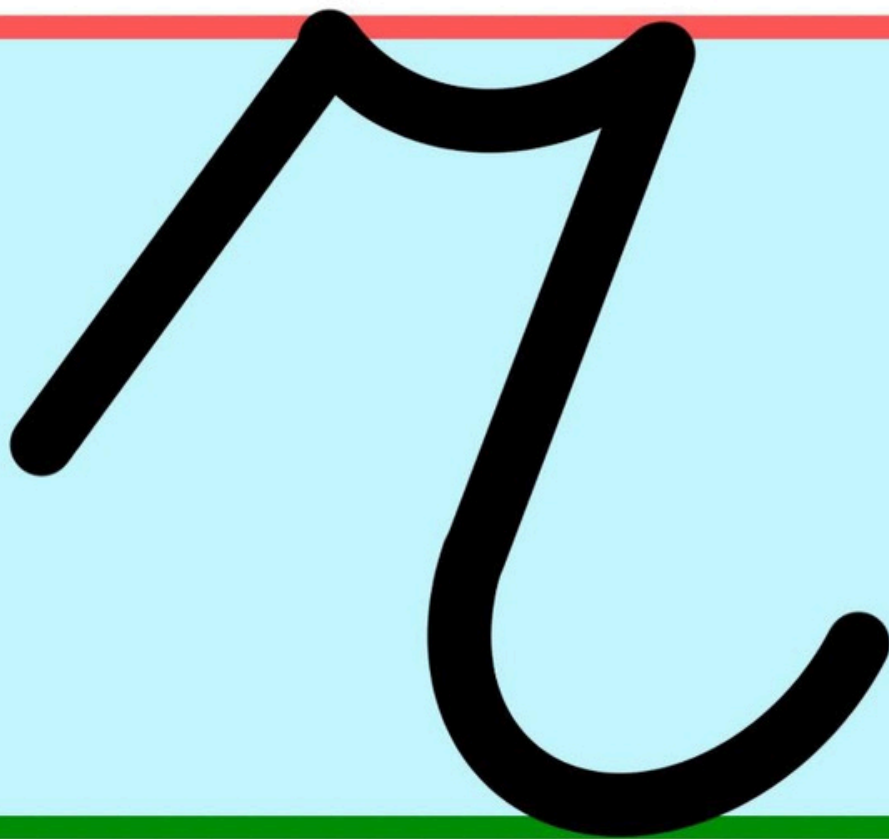

n

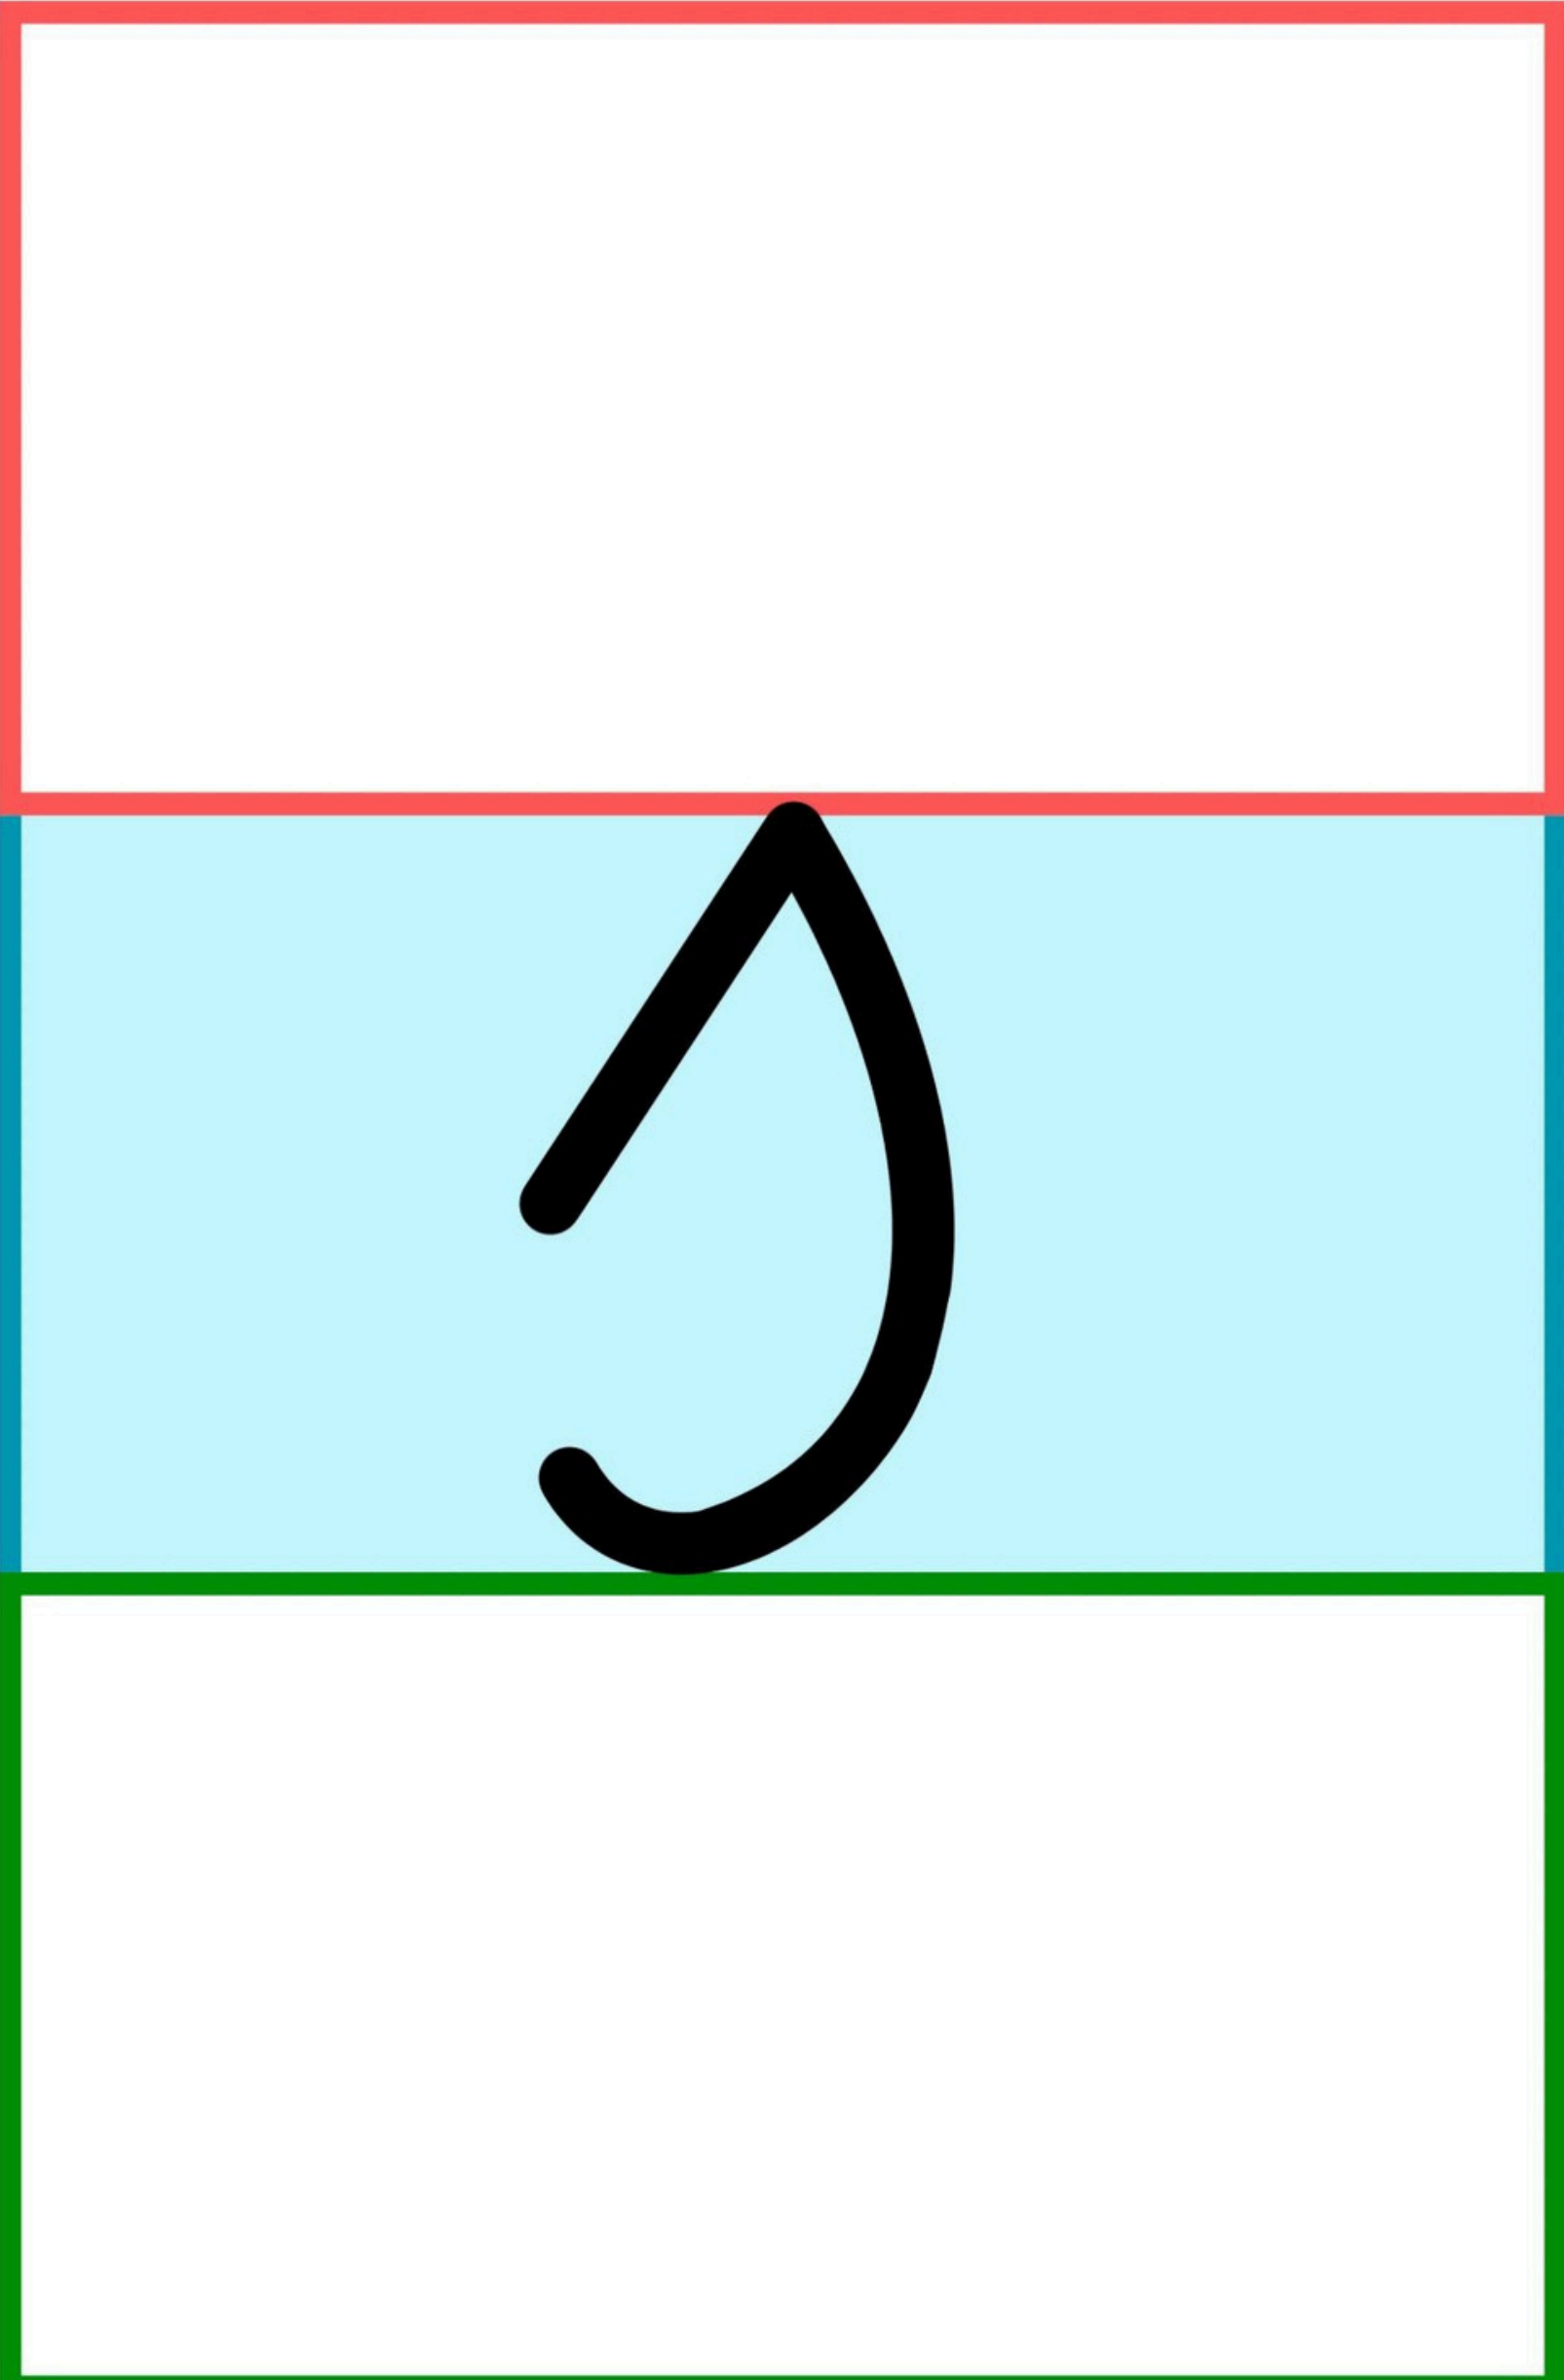

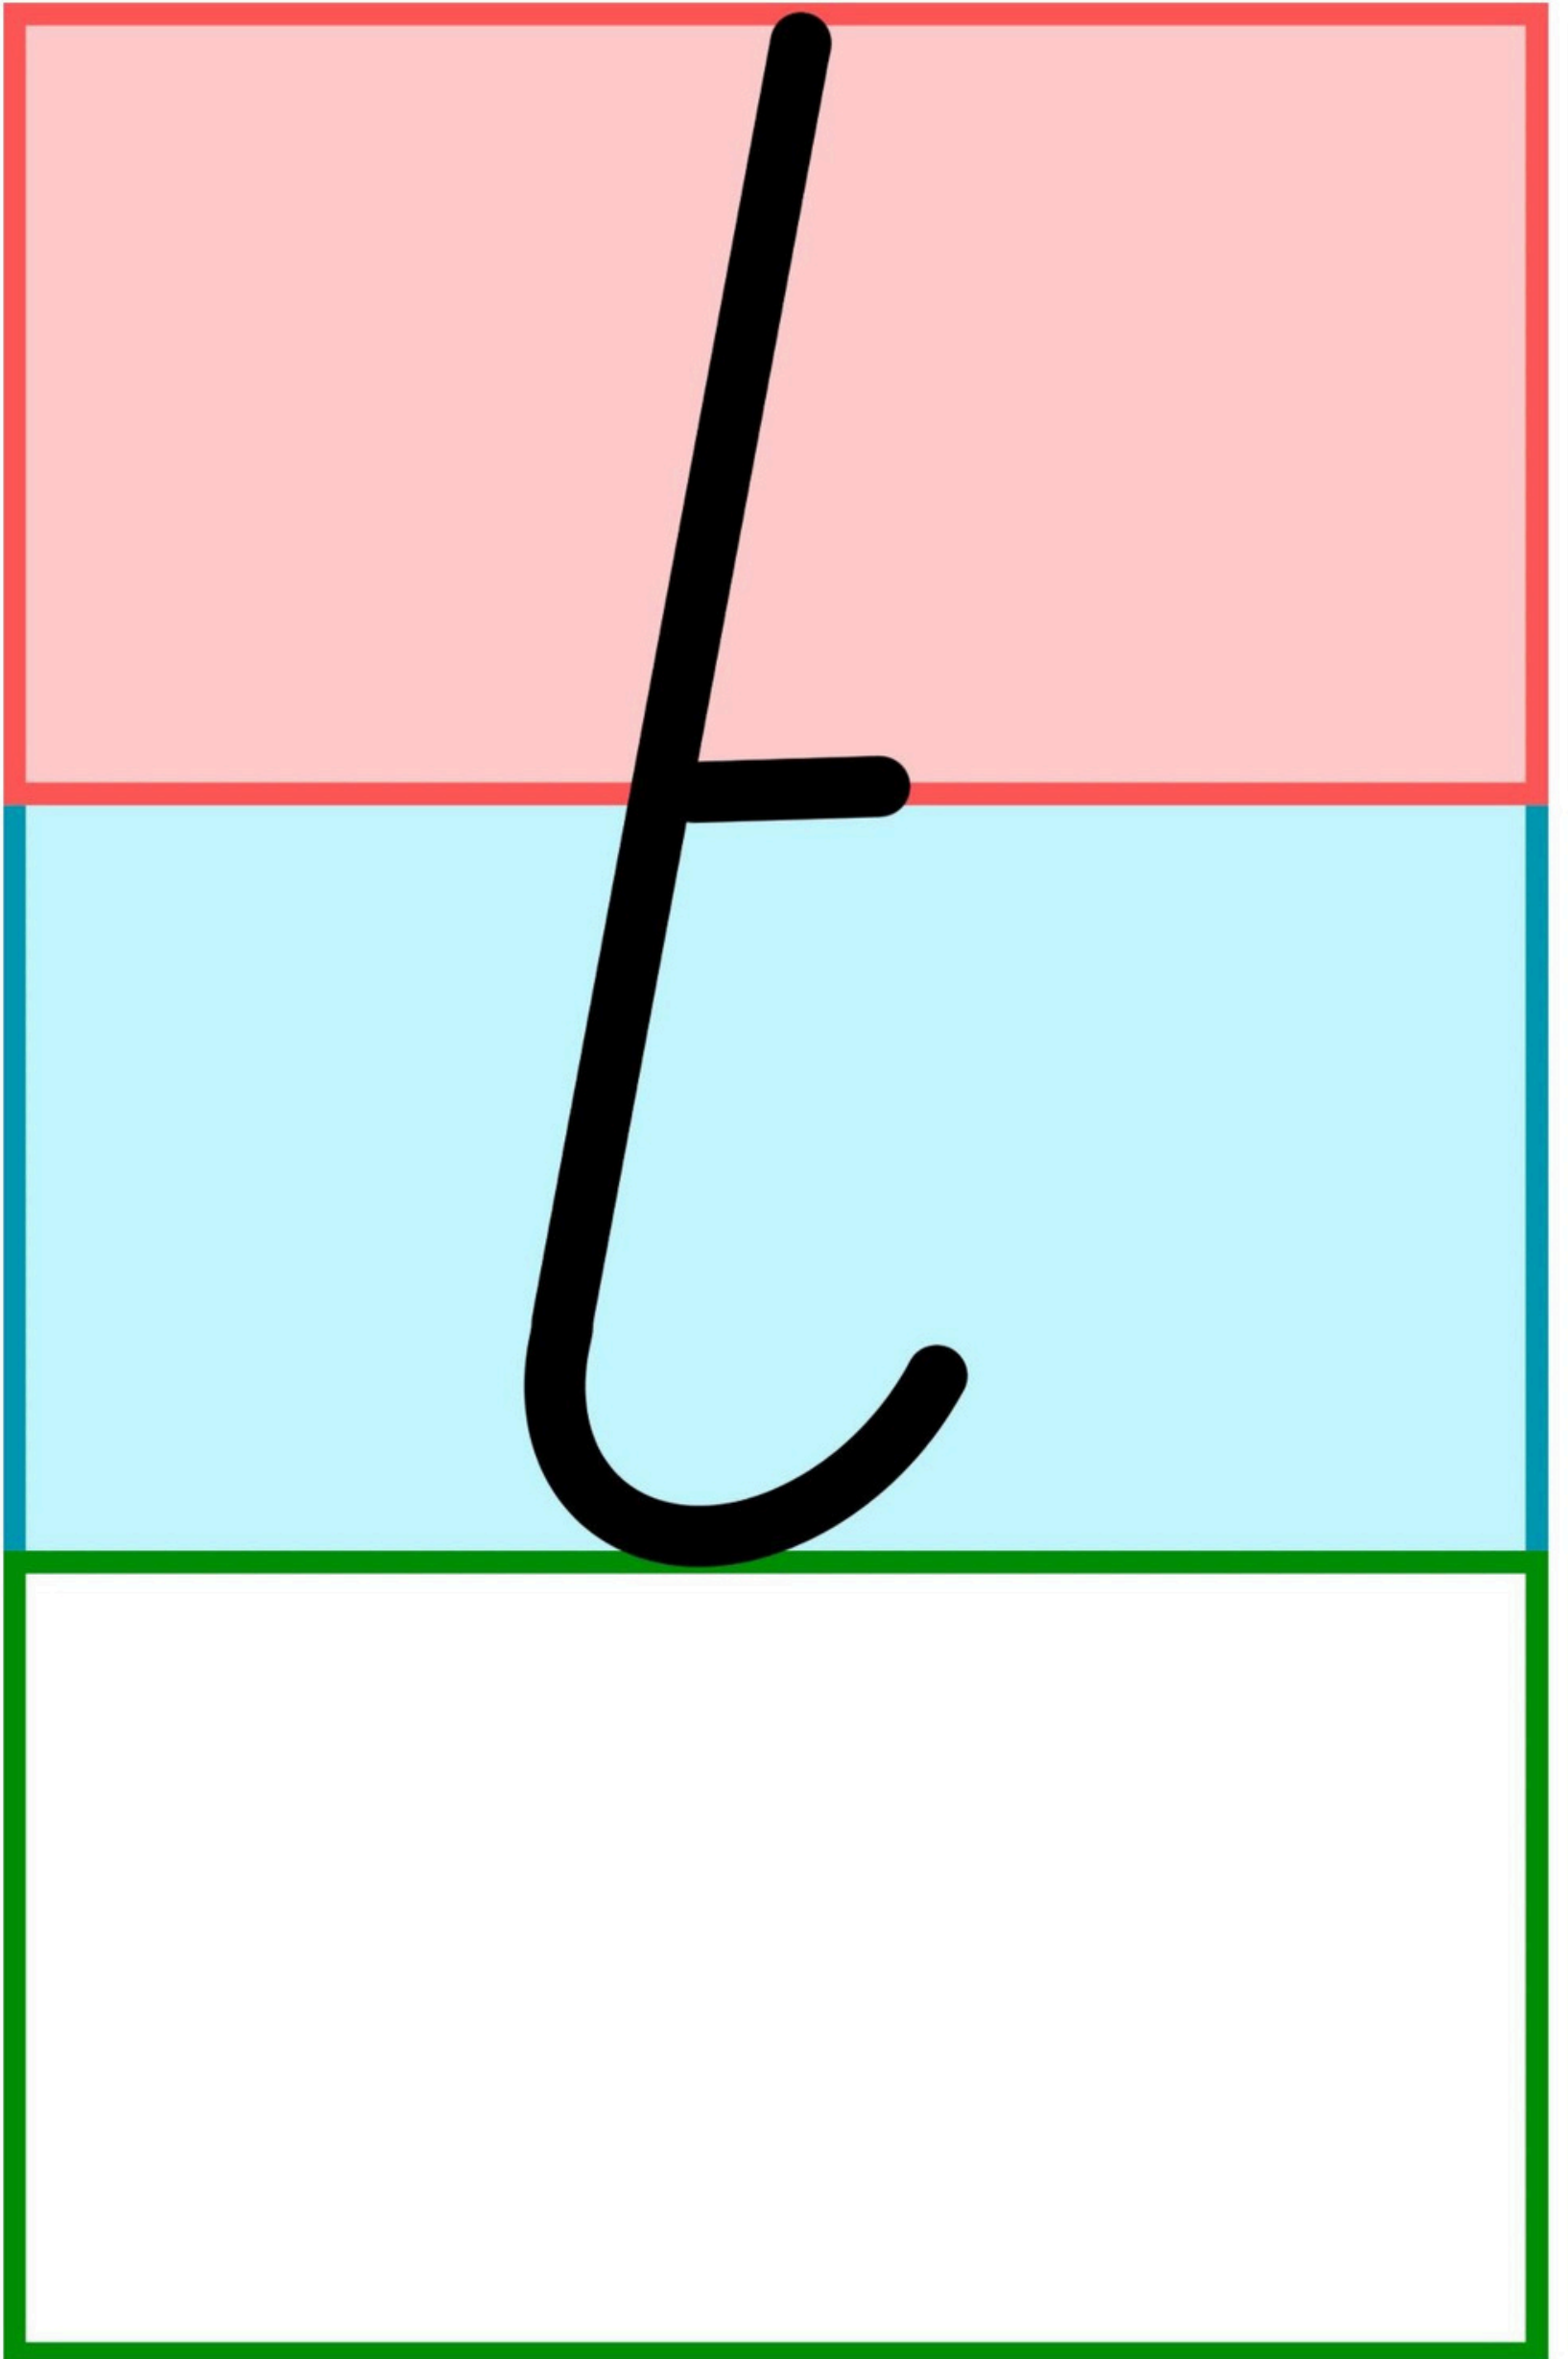

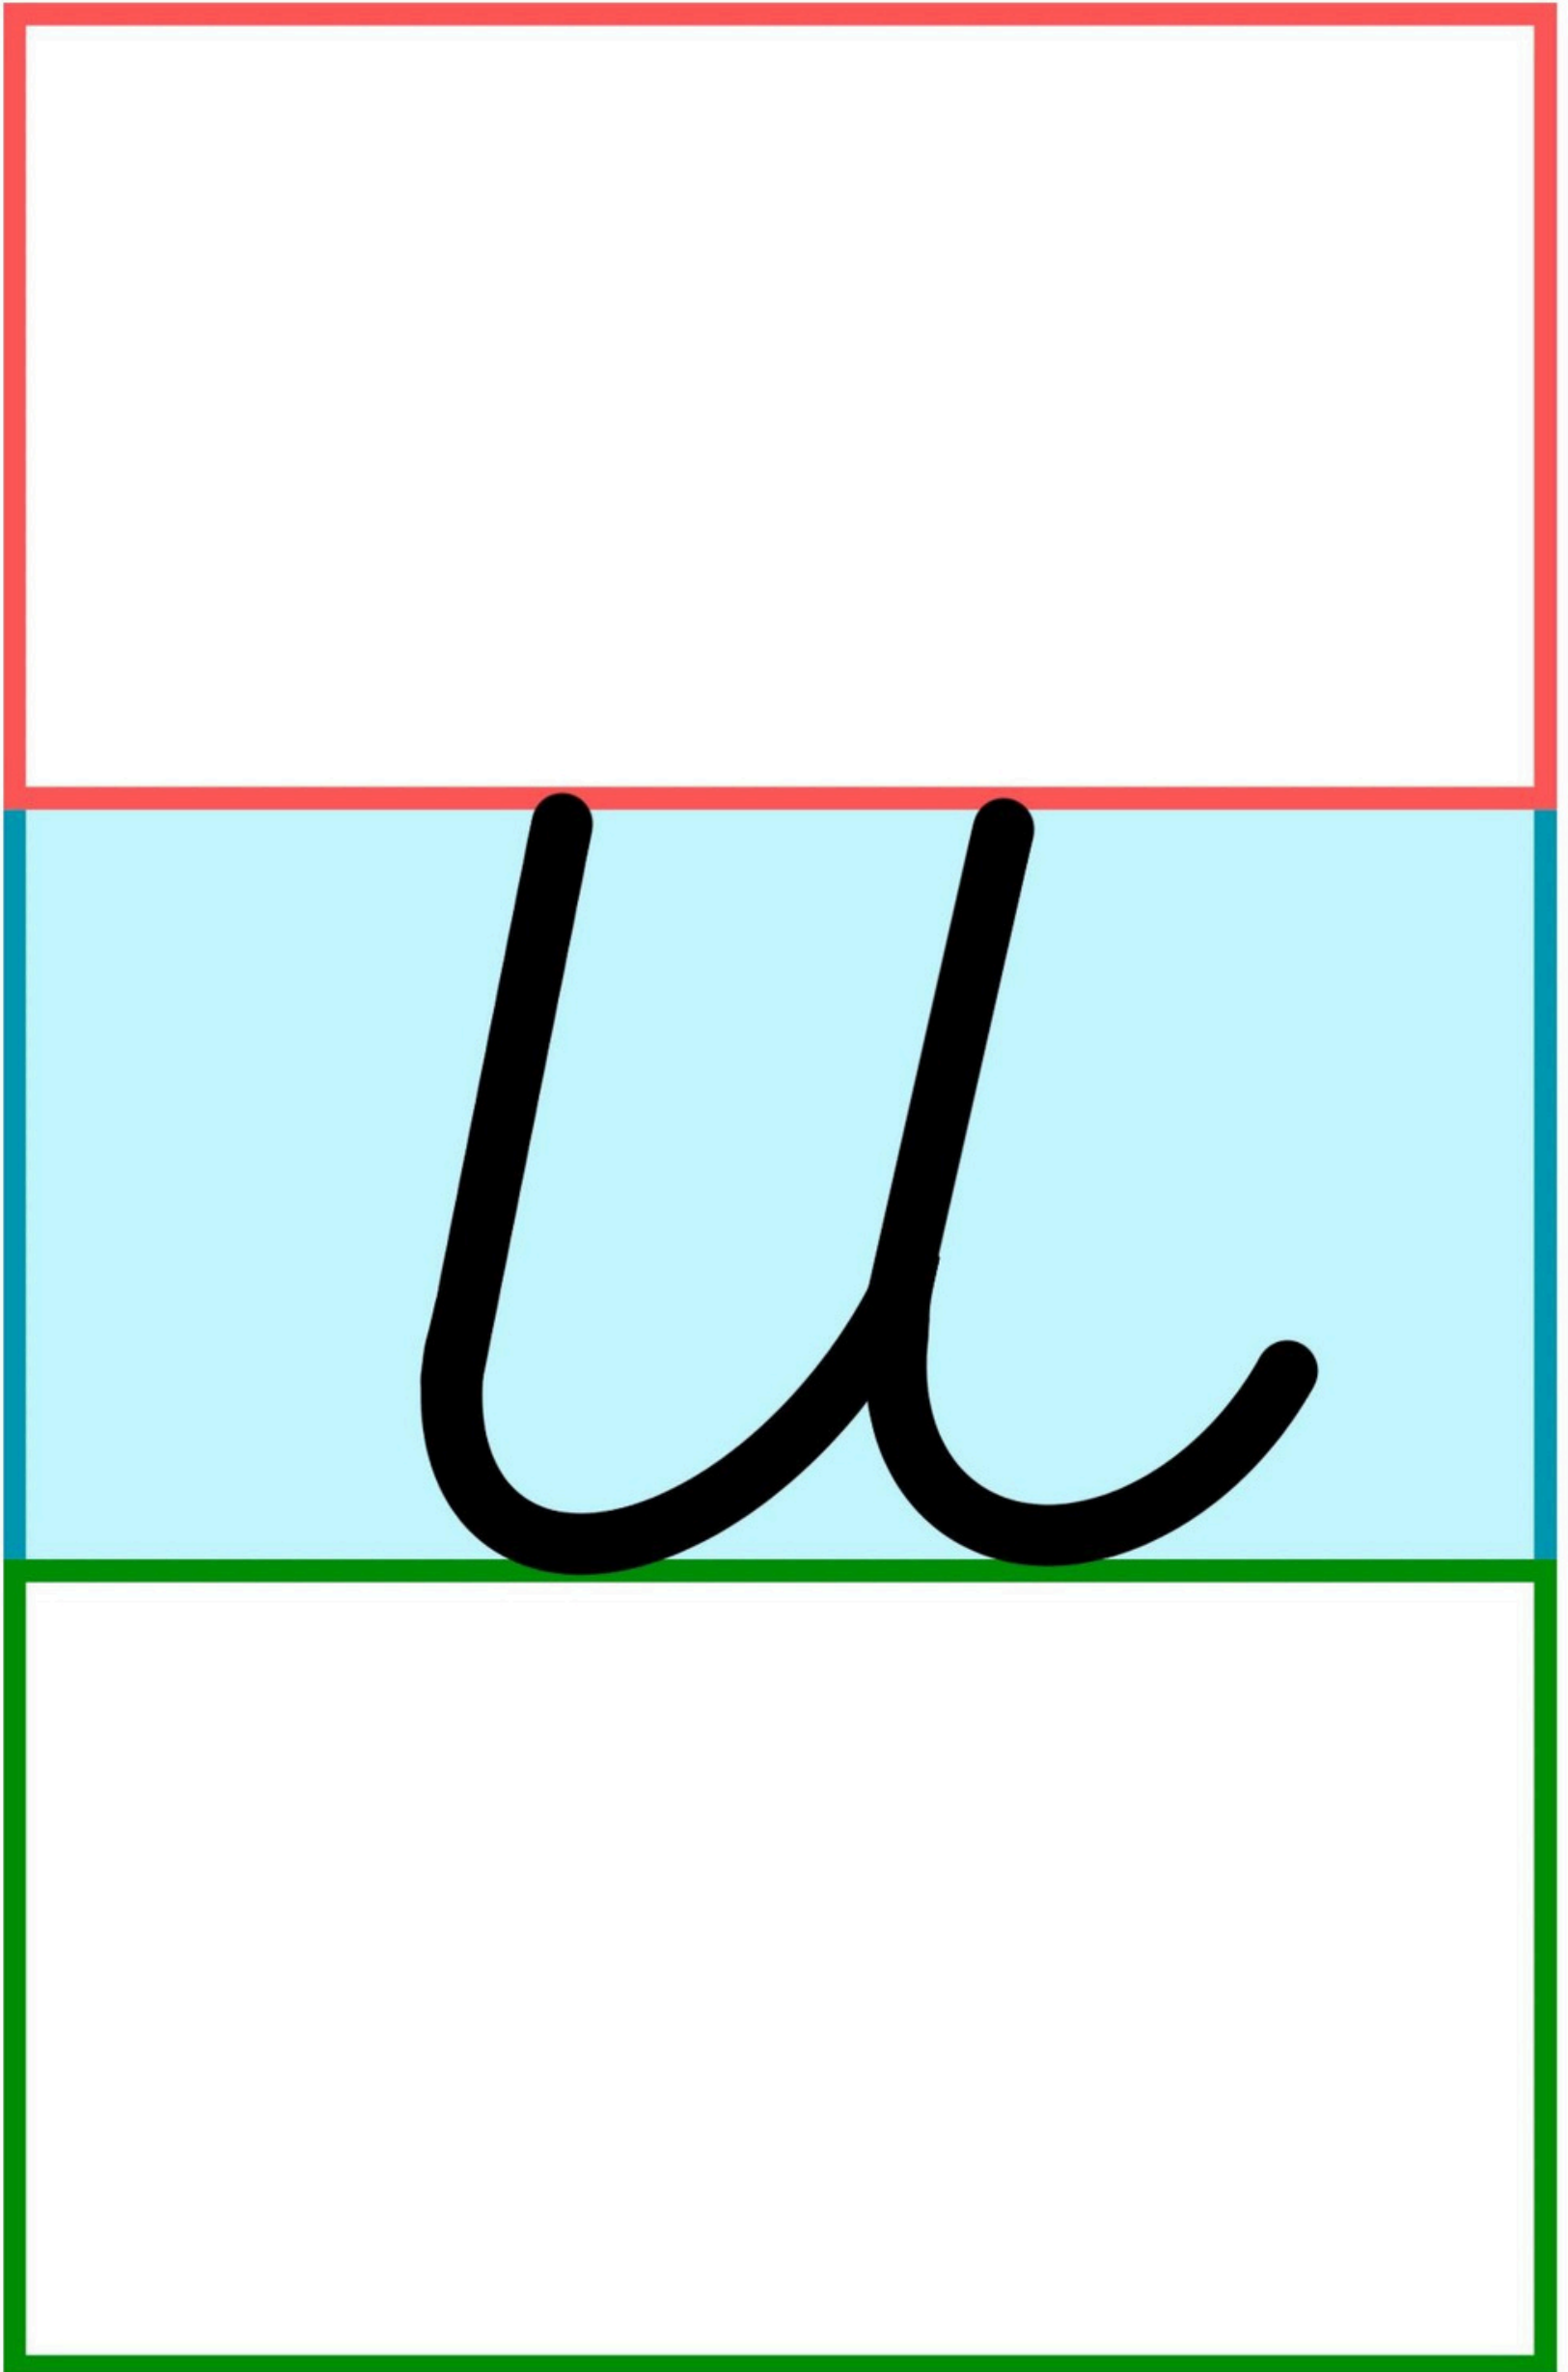

z

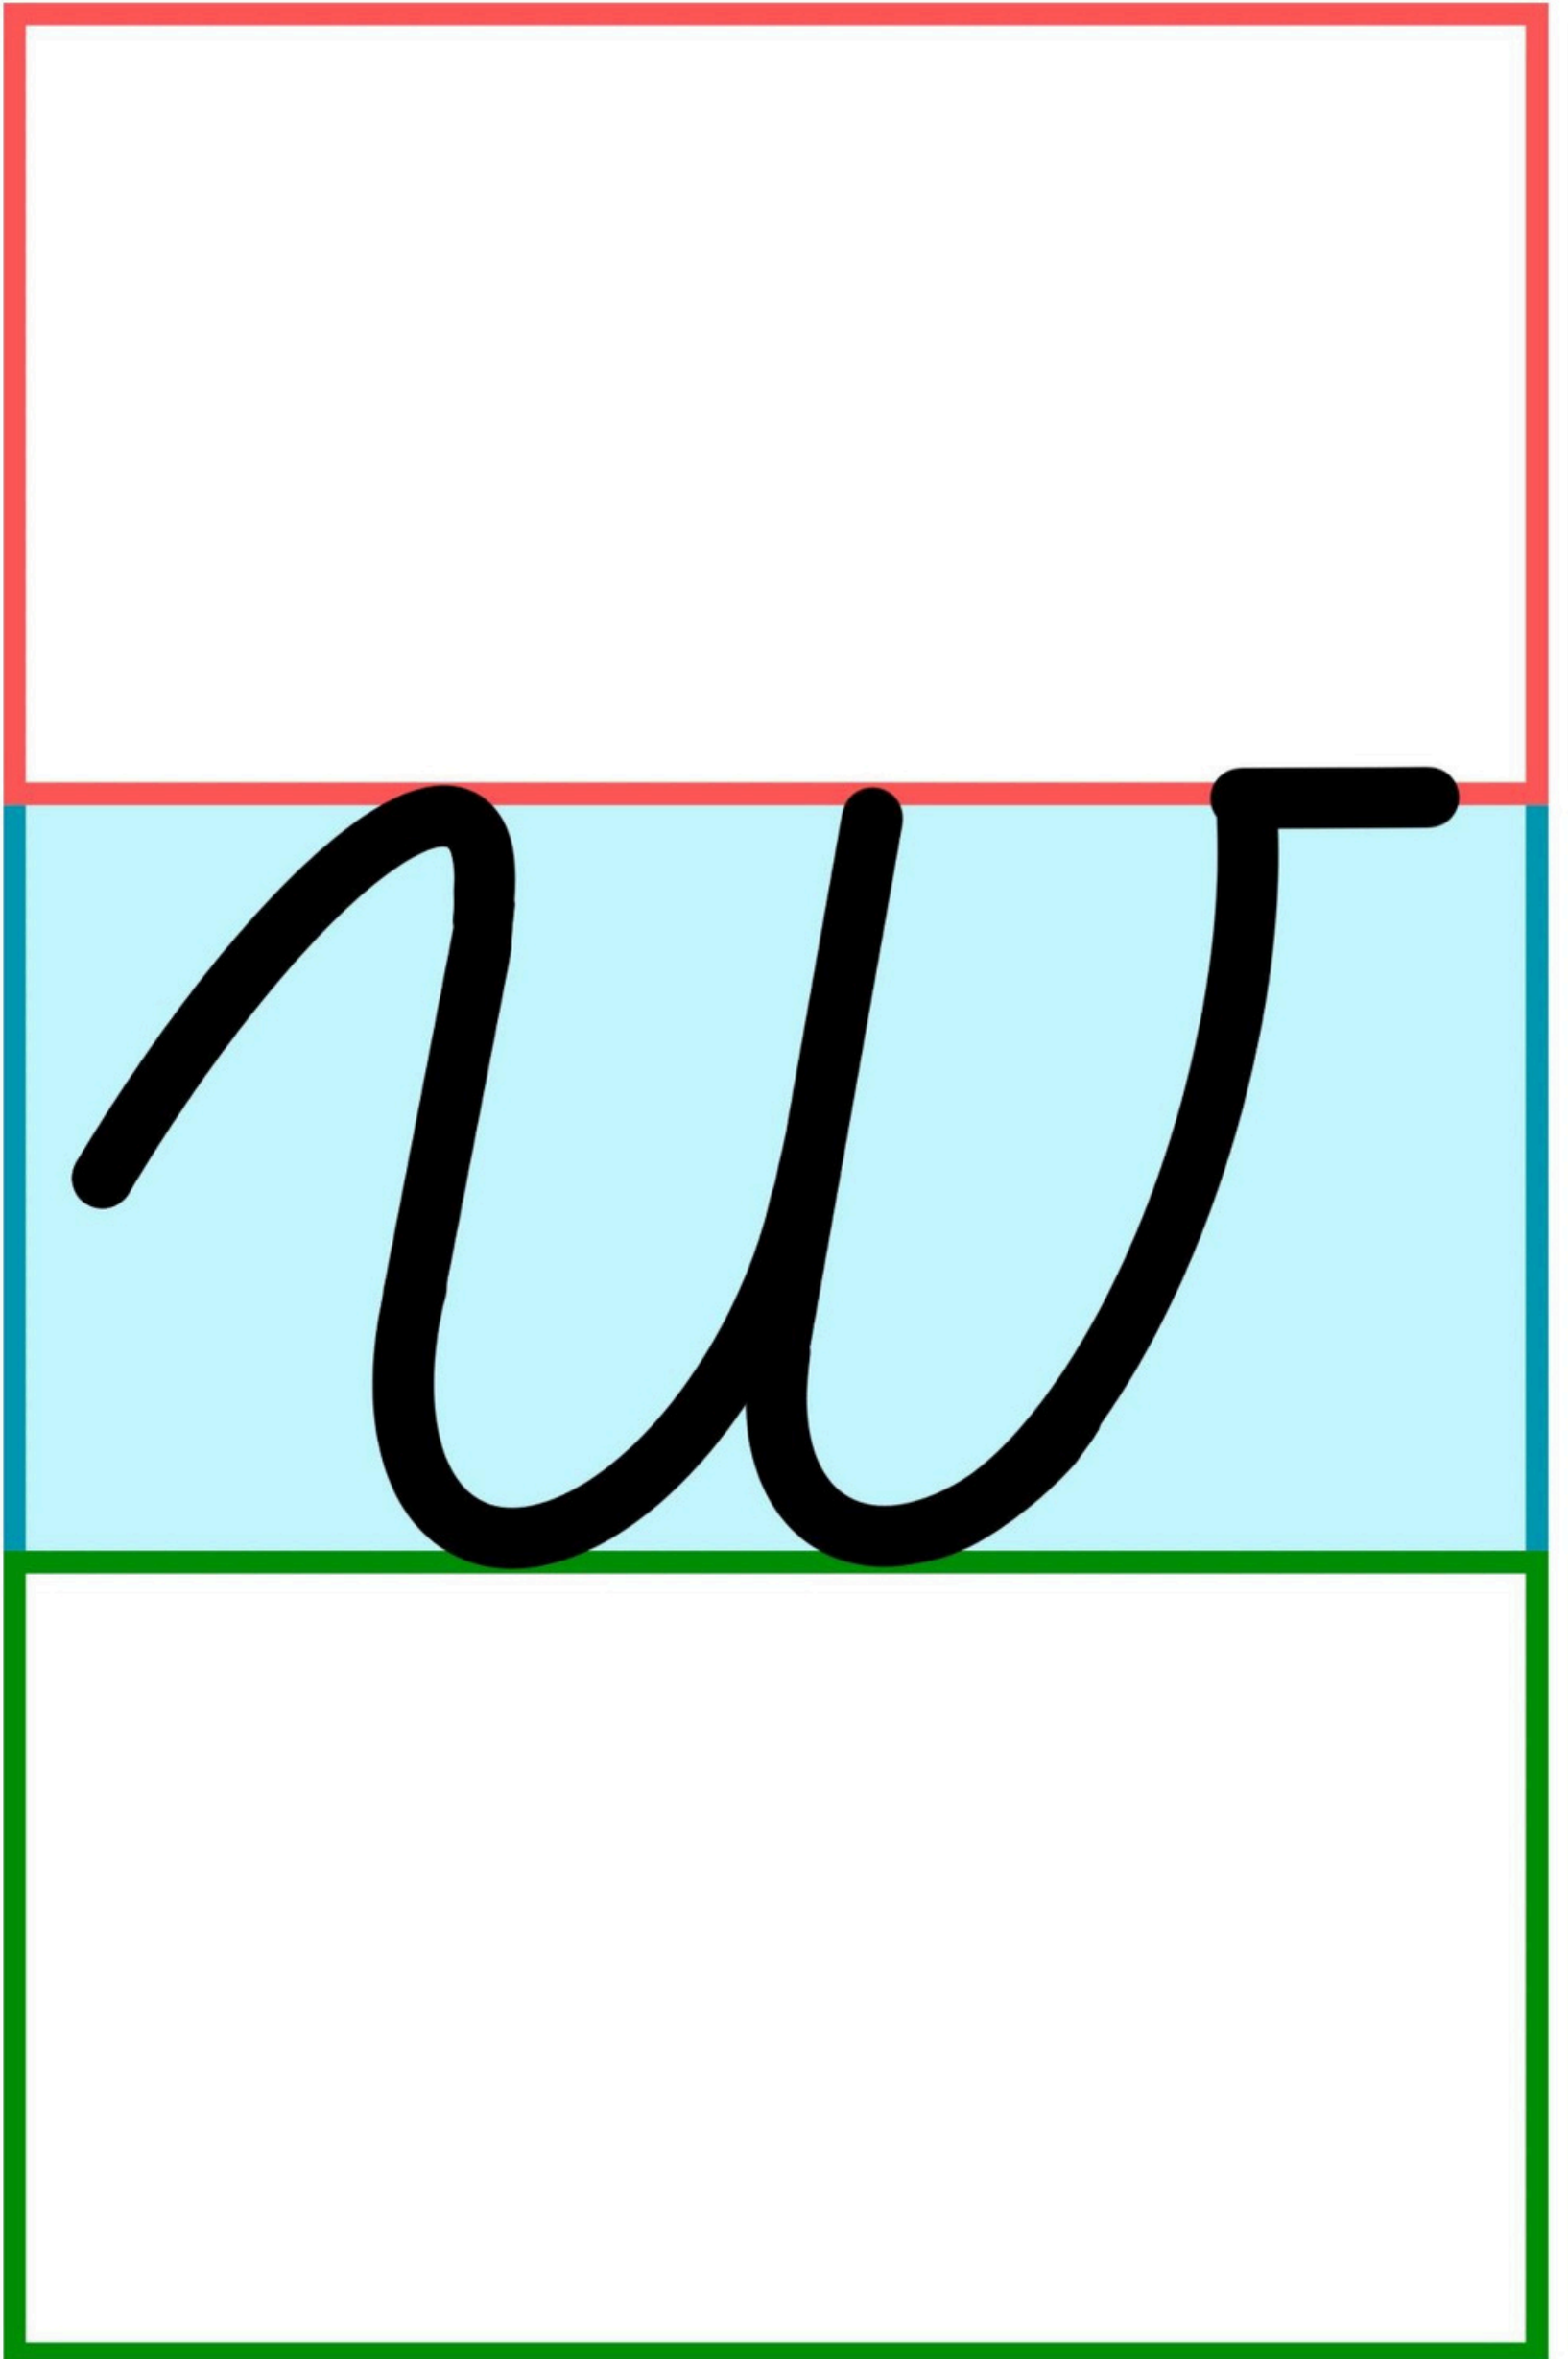

e

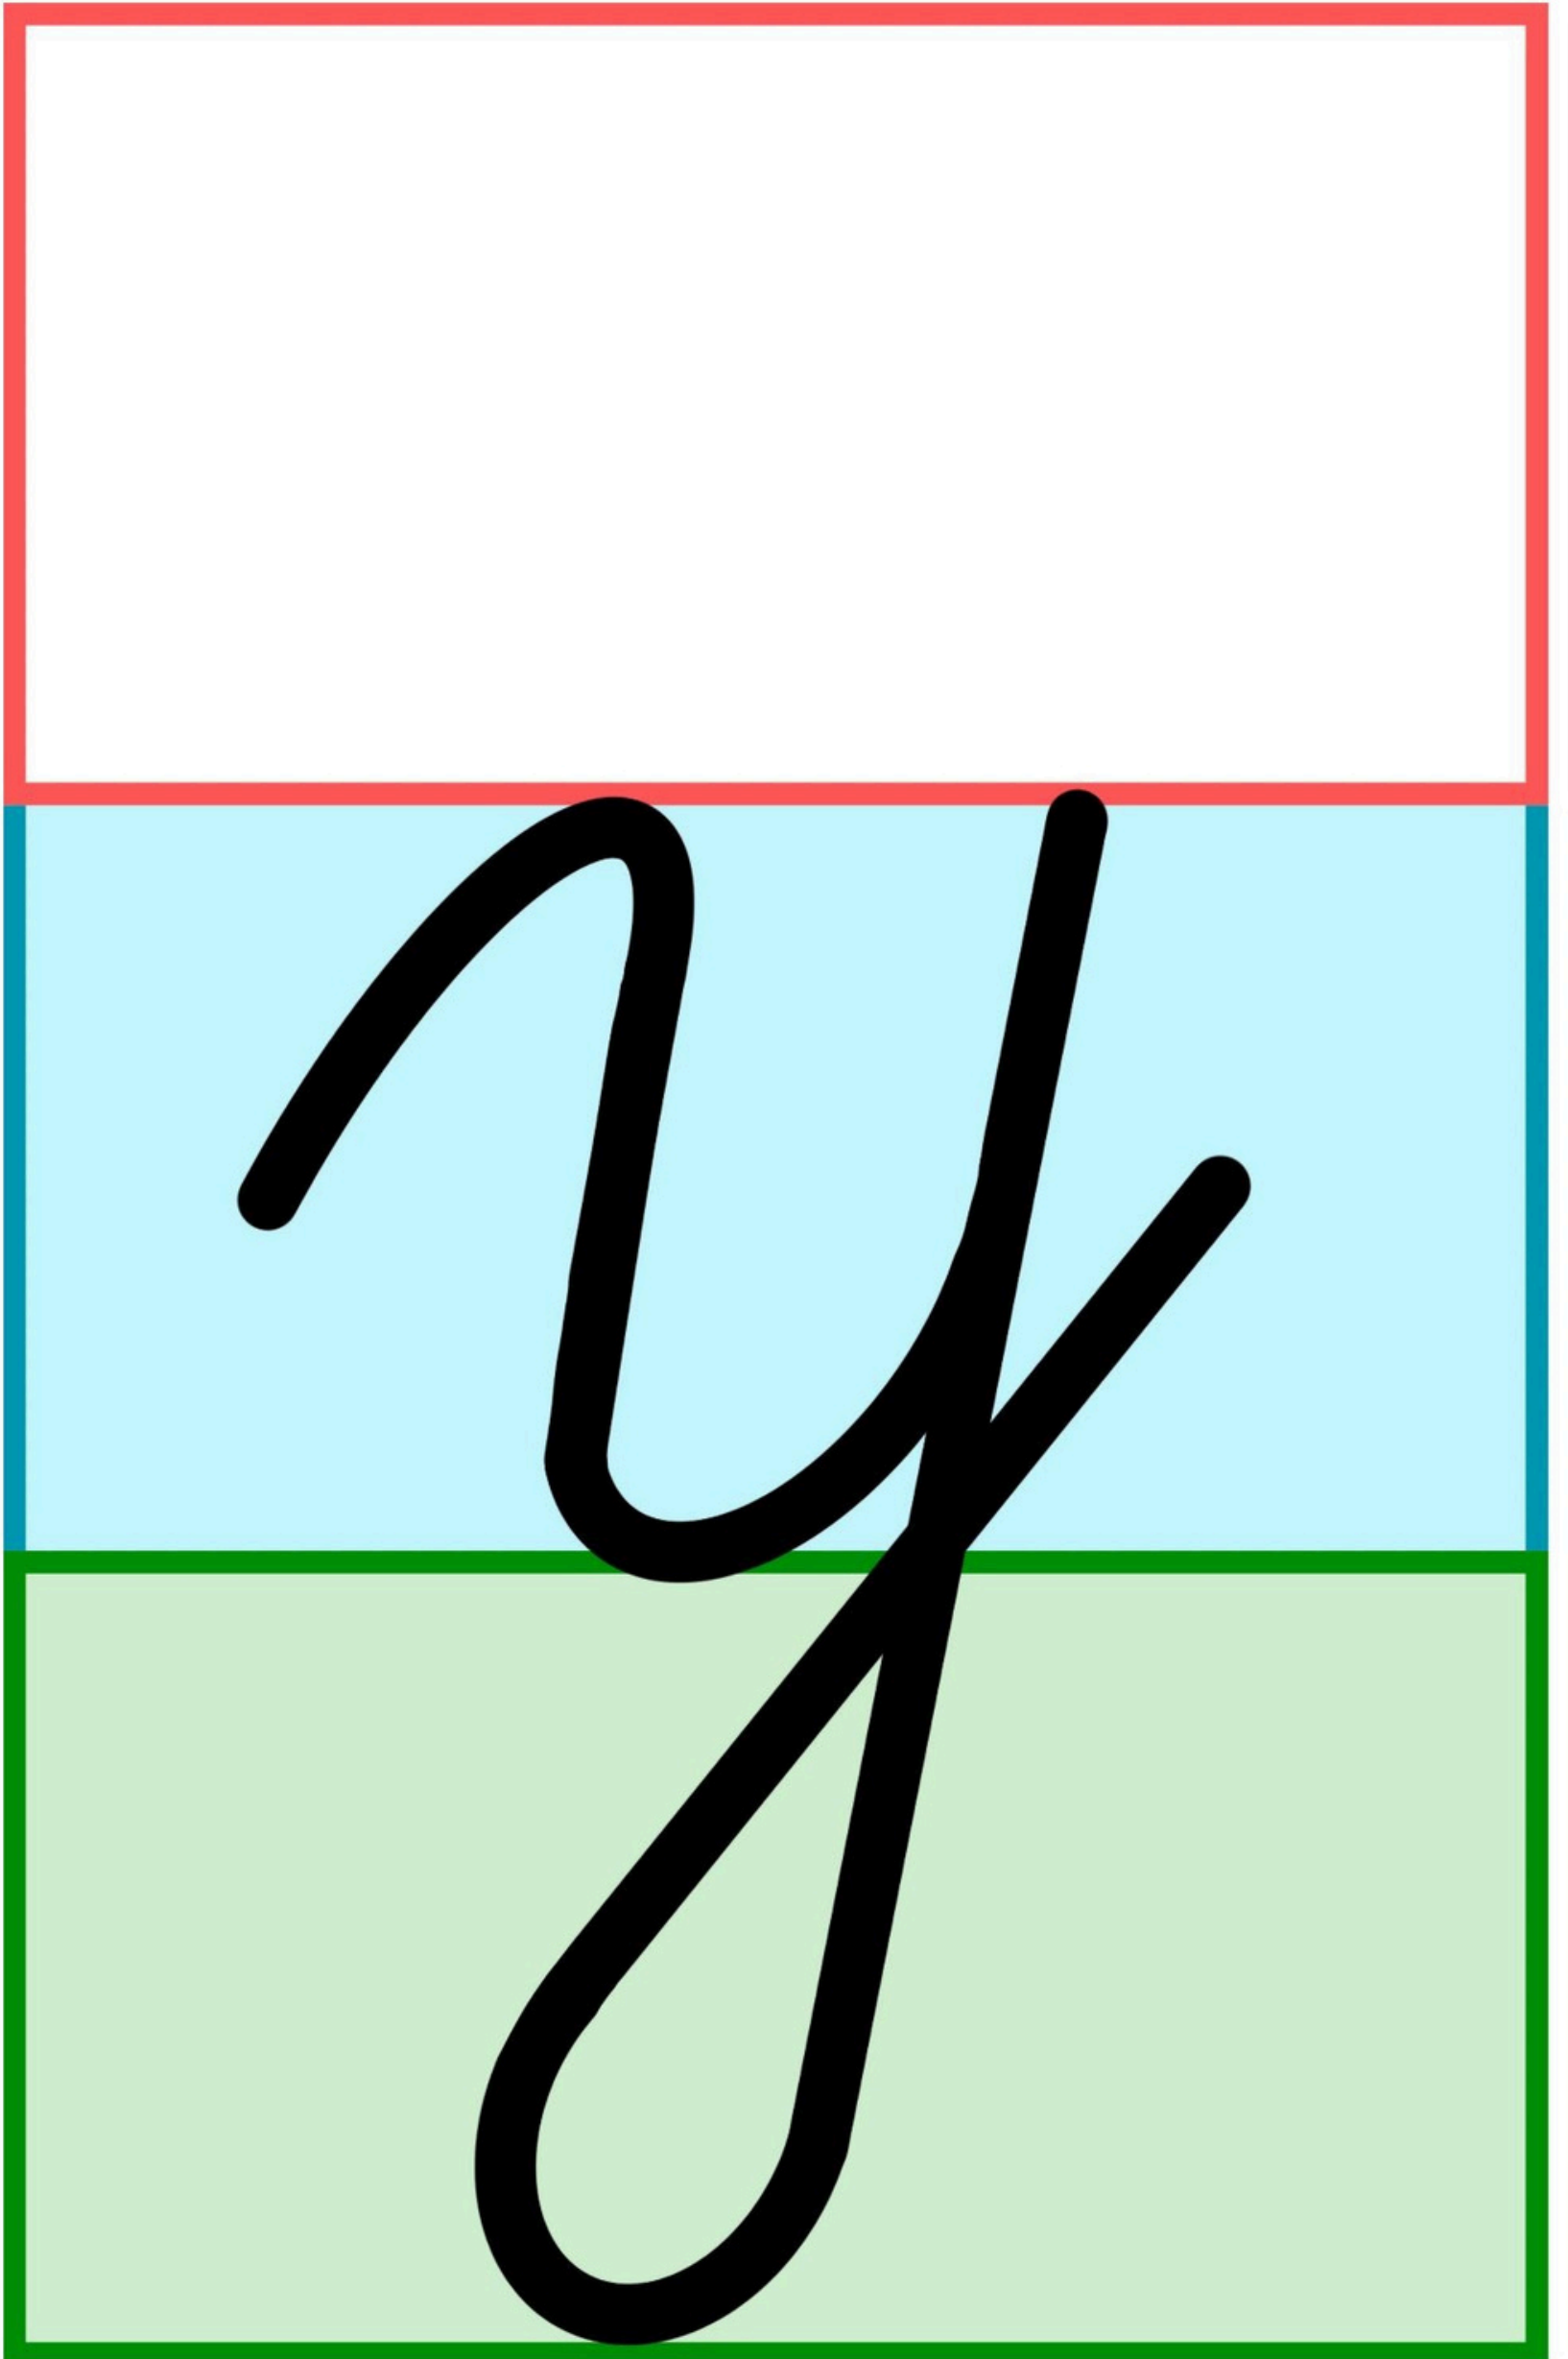

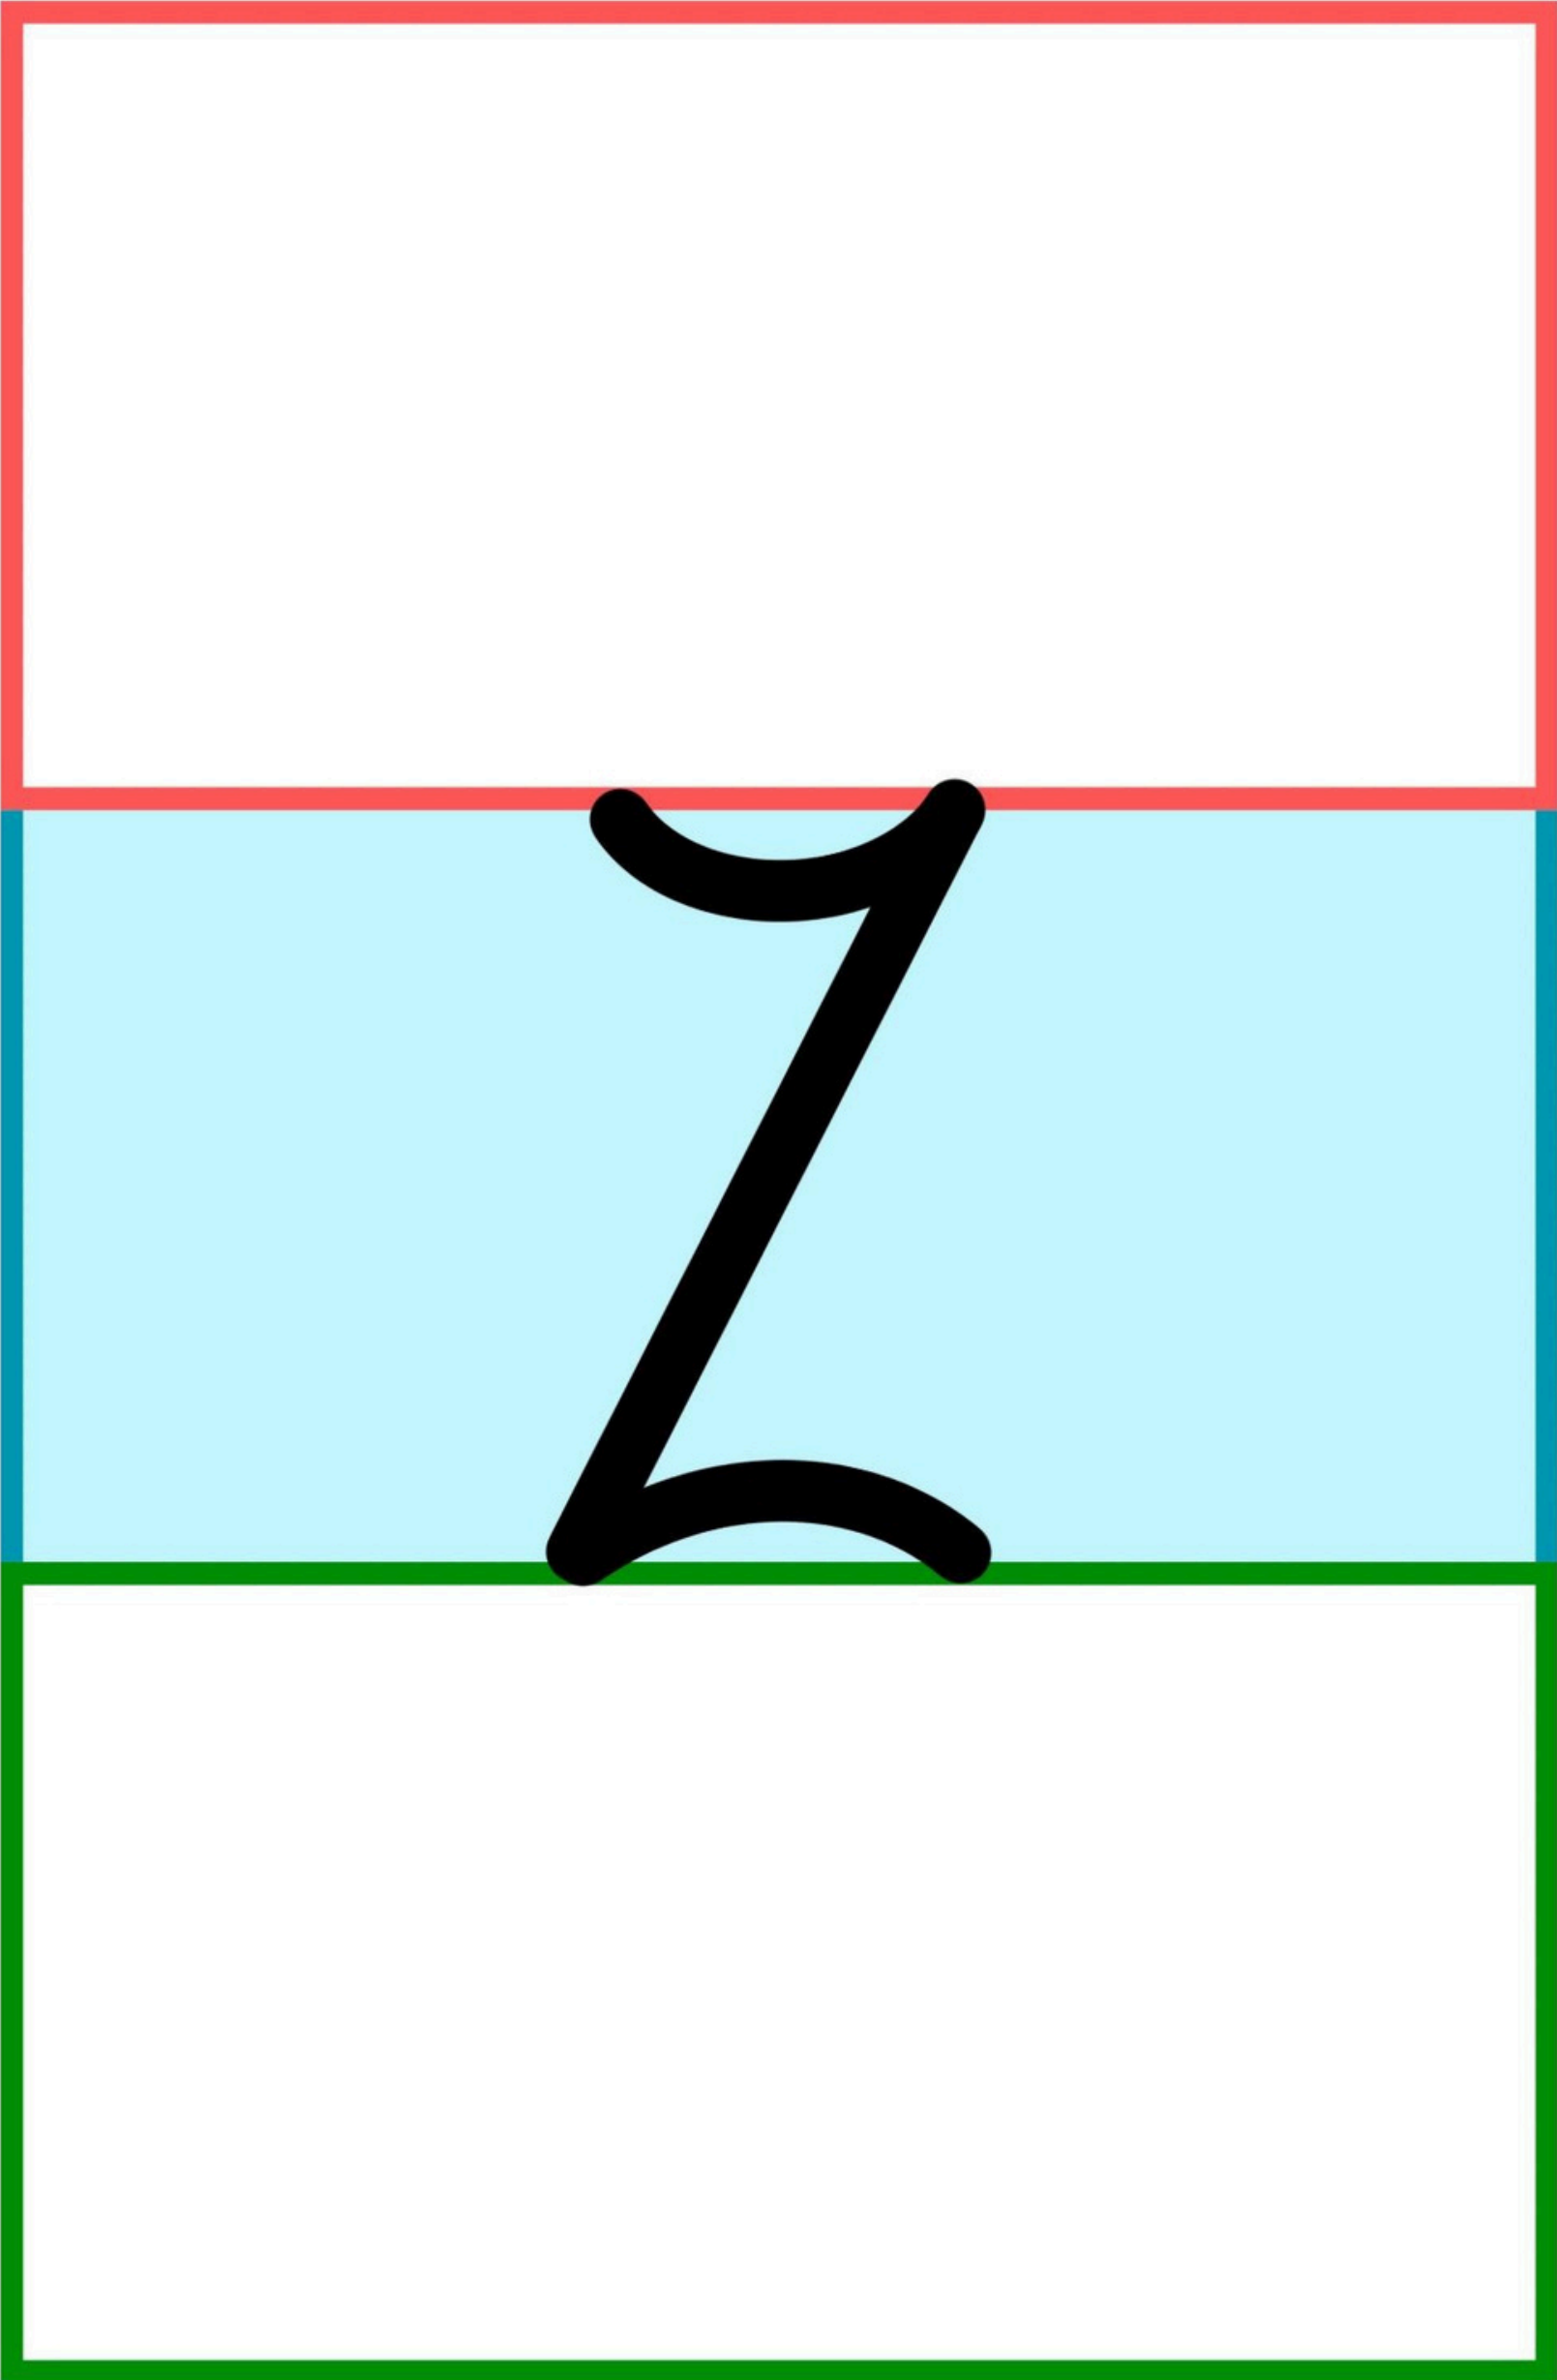

A handwriting practice sheet for the lowercase letter 'v'. The page is divided into three horizontal sections: a top white section with a red border, a middle light blue section with a red top border and a green bottom border, and a bottom white section with a green border. A large, thick black letter 'v' is centered in the middle section. The letter starts with a diagonal stroke from the top left, curves down to a point at the bottom, and then curves back up to a horizontal stroke at the top right. The top of the letter touches the red line, and the bottom of the letter touches the green line.

x

z